Endeavors to Forestall An Open Outbreak Between Nations at Manchuria SCHEME IS OUTLINED

Propose Sending Commission of Neutral Powers to Trouble Scene at Once

GENEVA, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The League of Nations, facing a test of its power to enforce peace among members, moved swiftly today to prevent an open outbreak of further hostilities between China and Japan in Manchuria.

The council hastily evolved a scheme to dispatch a commission composed of the military attaches of various neutral powers to the scene of the trouble, empowered to make a survey and report on the proposed immediate withdrawal of Japanese troops from Chinese territory.

The impression increased as the session proceeded that further developments hinged on the attitude of the United States. League leaders indicated they would do their utmost to induce Washington to participate.

The Japanese delegates were reported disinclined to agree to the dispatch of the proposed commission to Manchuria. However, it was understood that Kenkichi Yoshizawa, chief delegate, cabled to Tokio requesting instructions.

Japan and Russia Reach Agreement
MUKDEN, Manchuria, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Japanese and Russian officials appeared today to be in agreement over the Japanese occupation of Mukden despite reports from Harbin of violent Russian reaction.

The Soviet consul here was not disturbed over movement of Japanese troops toward north Manchuria. Japanese military officials said an agreement had been made to halt the troops at the Sungria river and that they would not enter north Manchuria proper.

Japanese deaths in fighting in Changchun were placed officially at 180. There was no estimate available of Chinese casualties.

Famous Trapeze Performer Dies
LONG BEACH, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Funeral services were planned today for Mrs. Hortense Codona, 62, one of the first women flying trapeze performers in the circus world, who died of a heart attack.

Mrs. Codona was the mother of Alfredo Codona, reigning king of the flying trapeze, whose wife, Lillian Letzel, was killed in Copenhagen last winter. Alfredo arrived here from the east before his mother died. Four of her other five children were present at her death.

Balks At Diet Of Spinach; She Eats Nail

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—A diet of spinach is bad enough, thinks Marvella Donovan, 9-year-old Pasadena girl, but when one is forced to eat nothing but spinach and raw cotton, it's time to balk.

Marvella was under treatment in the General Hospital today because she swallowed a nail. Doctors hoped the strange diet would bring the desired results.

Meanwhile, Marvella frets because she's missing school.

GUARDS CALLED OUT TODAY IN BOVINE BATTLE

Iowa Farmers Protest Over State's Tuberculosis Testing Law

TIPTON, Ia., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Cedar county went under martial law today in Iowa's battle to enforce its compulsory bovine tuberculosis testing law.

Mobilized from a score of cities, 1800 guardsmen arrived here aboard special trains to quell a farmer revolt that has simmered for months in the courts and broke into open violence yesterday afternoon.

Sheriffs and their deputies from many eastern Iowa counties were led by Joe Newell to the farm of Joe Lenker near Willow Junction.

There were 45 of the officers, well armed and instructed to protect state veterinarians as they carried out the tests on Lenker's cattle. Awaiting them were 400 farmers.

The deputies resorted to tear gas bombs but the missiles seemed only to aggravate the angry farmers.

The deputies had orders to fire no bullets and they retreated without testing Lenker's cattle.

But the affair had aroused Gov. Dan W. Turner, in Washington seeking federal aid in a campaign to boost the price of corn.

Turner, who has spent long hours trying to solve the tuberculosis testing problem without resorting to force, called W. H. Bailey, adjutant general, by telephone.

"Mobilize the national guard," he told Bailey, "I intend to go the limit in seeing that the law is carried out."

Within an hour Bailey had set in motion the machinery to mobilize the guard.

Sentiment here was that farmers here would offer no resistance to the guardsmen who will operate under instructions to protect veterinarians designated by the state to test Cedar county cattle.

CONTRACTS ARE LET MONDAY BY SCHOOL BOARD

Jules Markel and Robertson Electric Company Are Low Bidders

JULES MARKEL, Santa Ana contractor, and the Robertson Electric company of Santa Ana emerged from numerous bidders at the meeting of the Santa Ana board of education last night as winners of the general and electric contracts on the new shower building to be erected at the Frances Willard junior high school.

Markel was low bidder on the general contract with a figure of $21,524, while Robertson was low on the electrical work with an offer of $887. Markel's bid was $10 lower than that of a Long Beach contractor.

The contract for providing lockers and lockers went to the Lyon Metal Products company of Los Angeles at $1325.53, with the board reserving the option of using heavier lockers at an increase in price of 25 cents per basket. Specifications called for a 16-gauge basket, but the representative of Wehrly and company of Pico exhibited a 12-gauge basket on which he had an alternate bid. The board decided this basket would be better and the Lyon representative said his firm would supply it at an

"OTHER WOMAN" IS NAMED IN SLAYING

HAMPTON, Va., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Coroner George K. Vanderslice's 50 page report on the inquest into the death by drowning of Mrs. Jenny Graham Kane revealed today her parents' belief that she was murdered by her husband, Elisha Kane, professor of romance languages.

It also revealed the name of the "other woman" as Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Dahl, formerly of Mt. Holly, N. J. Previously the "other woman" was said to be "Betty Dodd of New York," but no such person could be found. According to Mrs. W. C. Graham, the dead woman's mother, it was Mrs. Dahl who wrote letters to Kane signed "E. H. D."

Kane is at liberty under bail charged with murder. Authorities accused him of holding his wife under water until she drowned but Kane said his wife died of heart disease, while swimming.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(UP)—David Sarnoff, president of the radio corporation of America, announced today that suits against the corporation brought by various independent radio manufacturing organizations had been settled.

The announcement said that all anti-trust law suits against the radio corporation had been dropped. They were brought by numerous radio equipment manufacturers, who alleged the corporation had violated the Clayton act.

The settlement involves granting to the DeForest company, chief opponent of RCA, a license under the patents owned or controlled by the radio corporation and its associated companies—General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, American Telephone & Telegraph, and others.

HEAT WAVE IN MIDWEST ENDS WITH STORMS

Seven Reported Dead and Property Damage Heavy Through Missouri

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 22.—(UP)—The longest September heat wave in the history of the southwest was broken today after violent wind and electrical storms swept the area, killing seven persons.

The storms cut erratic swaths through the territory last night and early today. In addition to the seven dead, heavy property damage was reported. Several persons were injured.

Two fatalities in Missouri, two in Kansas and three in Oklahoma were reported. Property damage was not confined to narrow limits, but was scattered generally along the path the tornadoes traveled.

Terror descended on the University of Missouri campus last night while the social hour was getting under way. Fraternity and sorority houses were damaged, and part of the roof was lifted from Jesse Hall, administration building.

The storm struck one of its most severe blows in Labette and Cherokee counties, Kansas.

Heavy rain accompanied the wind and electrical displays in most sections. Agricultural authorities said the moisture was of immeasurable

NANKING, China, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh planned to fly over a large territory west of the Grand canal today in continuing their surveys to aid millions of flood refugees.

In their first flight over the flooded area yesterday, Col. Lindbergh plotted a sector of 8000 square miles that revealed many new regions of refugees, according to Dr. Arthur Young, American relief work advisor.

The Lindberghs expected to complete the surveys today and will begin a round of receptions tomorrow. The date of their departure and the route they will follow to their next destination have not been decided.

PROSPECTS FOR DISARMAMENT ARE BRIGHTER

Recent Developments Kind Hope for Success at Geneva Meet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Prospects for international disarmament, dismal, through the summer, seem to have taken on a brighter hue as a result of recent developments.

Many problems still stand between the world's statesmen and effective reduction of armaments at the Geneva conference next February. Yet new hope animates those working to scale down the world's warships and guns when they consider these trends:

1.—The state department's spirited and favorable reaction to Italy's suggestion of an armament building a "holiday." Secretary Stimson has authorized Hug Wilson, disarmament expert and minister to Switzerland, to "sit in" in a consultative role during sessions of the league committee considering the matter. Officials here feel that if a "holiday" can be arranged the February conference will meet in a more favorable atmosphere.

2.—The prospect that American officials will have an opportunity to "sell" the disarmament idea to prime minister Laval of France during personal conversations here. France is considered a "key state" in the disarmament puzzle. Ambassador Walter E. Edge in Paris informed the state department last night that Laval was considering a trip to Washington. Edge assumed the prime minister President Hoover would welcome his visit.

3.—Recent evidences that the Hoover administration is prepared to work zealously for success at Geneva. The United Press is reliably informed that Mr. Hoover considers disarmament the biggest problem before the world today and one that must be solved in the interest of economic recovery.

Between now and the opening of the Geneva conference the administration is expected to carry on a vigorous campaign to educate the American public on the importance of disarmament.

STEEL COMPANIES ANNOUNCE WAGE CUT

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(UP)—A 10 percent wage reduction effective Oct. 1, was ordered today by the nation's two largest steel companies, the U. S. Steel corporation and the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Both actions were foreshadowed by the current adverse conditions in the steel industry. The U. S. Steel corporation announcement was made following the regular weekly meeting of its finance committee and was quickly followed by the Bethlehem action.

"I consider the action of the U. S. Steel corporation in readjusting downward wage scales," President Eugene G. Grace of Bethlehem, said "a constructive move and Bethlehem will make a similar adjustment."

England In Plan To End Depression

Redistribution of Gold is Suggested to Remedy World's Ills

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—British financial and political leaders today looked hopefully to an international conference to restore economic health to the world through a redistribution of the world's gold supply.

With the budget balanced on paper and suspension of the gold standard for six months approved by parliament and King George on record, experts considered a conference for redistribution of gold the next move in untangling the world economic situation. War debts may be included.

Speaking of the necessity of a remedy for the conditions under which the United States and France hold 65 percent of the world supply of the precious metal, Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, said in a radio address:

"We would willingly call an international conference for this purpose. It has been made clear to us that such a move is unwelcome to some other parties. It may be that the present crisis will bring home to them the necessity for some concerted action."

Snowden took the opportunity to refer to the large number of bank failures that have occurred outside England during the world depression.

"British banks are safe," he said, "whereas in some countries bank failures are a common occurrence."

The staid house of lords exceeded all Britain's speed records when the gold standard bill was passed through its three stages in the record parliamentary time of two minutes. The measure was not debated and was approved without a vote.

POLICE CHIEF AND JUDGE ARE FIRED

SELMAS, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Selmas today was without a police chief and police judge and had a new traffic officer, the work of the city council last night and attributed to local dissatisfaction of the handling of a Filipino-White racial disturbance several weeks ago.

Following the racial fight here in which one white man was stabbed, Lowell C. Pratt, editor of the Selma Irrigator, editorialized criticized Police Judge E. C. Laughlin for his lenience toward several white youths after fining the islanders. The whites had admitted inciting the fight.

Judge Laughlin cited Pratt for contempt of court by telephone, later dismissing the case in the same way.

Last night the city council disposed of the whole affair by dismissing the Judge, Police Chief E. C. Wright and Traffic Officer C. R. Callender, appointing Earl Bennett to Callender's place but leaving the other positions vacant.

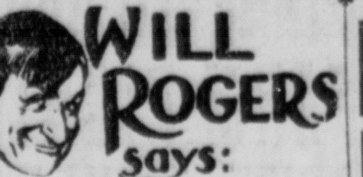

CIVIC OFFICIALS IN THIRD PARLEY TODAY

MONTEREY, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—The causes and cures for depression occupied the California League of Municipalities today at the third session of its annual convention here.

Twelve hundred delegates, representing almost every city in the state, heard discussions on the subject which were started yesterday by Clarence F. Pratt, representing Mayor Angelo Rossi of San Francisco.

Pratt took an optimistic view of the unemployment situation confronting the cities, claiming that a return to normal can be expected early next year.

"Only by scientific control and precaution can similar conditions be avoided in the future," he said. "When we are out of the depression this spring, we shall have learned an economic lesson which could not have been gained by actual experience."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 22.—[To the Editor of The Register:] Something has happened to England's gold standard. I don't know any more about it than a prominent man knows about relieving depression. I know you can't get any gold out of the Bank of England even with a check from the King endorsed by Gandhi. We got all the gold over here and look how pretty we are sitting. "Yeah!" It looks like the financial giants of the world have bungled as much as the diplomats and politicians. This would be a great time in the world for some man to come along that knew something.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

EUGENIE HATS BRING DOLLARS FOR DANBURY

Business Greatest in All History and Workmen Are Getting Rich

DANBURY, Conn., Sept. 22.—(UP)—They'd build a monument to the Empress Eugenie here in Danbury if the hat business ever slowed down enough to give them time.

The grateful citizens of the community which produces 85 per cent of the nation's hats, felt and straw, give the chic French empress of half a century ago credit for the booming boom in the business which provides a livelihood for most of Danbury's 28,000 inhabitants.

The city's 30 hat factories and numerous fur-trading plants have been running 24 hours a day and most of them seven days a week.

Factories are producing 10,000 dozen hats daily. Hatters, who in normal times worked six months a year at $75 to $115 a week when work was available, are earning $15 to $155 every week. Only the unfinished hat is made here in quantity, these being shipped to various cities to be modeled, trimmed and distributed to the retail trade.

There was a time when things were different. Hard times struck the industry two years ago after two normal years. There were many hat makers who earned little or nothing. Hatters are paying up old bills or banking money against the return of hard times.

Alertness on the part of Danbury's hat executives was partially responsible for the sudden boom. Manufacturers here beat the importers of foreign hats to the punch when the desire for Eugenie bonnets first was evident.

The demand for men's hats is brisk, they said, but not as great as for women's. The 11 hat factories at Norwalk also are working to capacity.

At Danbury, last week's payroll was $340,000. The total payroll for the past four weeks was nearly $1,500,000, a record.

For many years no distinctly "new" style was forthcoming in women's hats. Consequently a woman could wear her hats for more than a single season by some re-blocking or remodeling. The Eugenie hat, however, was radically different, and if a woman wanted to follow the styles, she had to have a Eugenie or one of its variations. Hence the boom period here.

MOYLE AND ALLEN TO RESUME FLIGHT

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Don Moyle and Cecil A. Allen, Los Angeles aviators, expect to continue their journey toward the states tomorrow.

They said today that they would make Tacoma their next stopping place, eliminating Seattle from their itinerary.

SEATTLE, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Richard Fenton, publicity manager for Don Moyle and Cecil A. Allen, has made arrangements with John Burrell, Tacoma backer of the flight, to have the aviators land their monoplane at Tacoma, instead of Seattle, when they fly to Puget Sound from Nome, he said today.

HOT BATTLE LOOKED FOR THIS WEEK

Indications Are That Beer Issues Will Be Leading Question for Solution

BACK OF PRESIDENT

Delegates Will Heed Warning of Hoover Against Any Demands for Bonus

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Shouts of praise for President Hoover were mingled today with shouts of "we want beer" as thousands of American Legion men turned their attention from the bonus to prohibition and accepted the latter as now being the most controversial question before their annual convention.

"That speech took courage," declared St. Kasper, commander of the South Dakota Legion, in commenting upon the president's warning yesterday that until after the depression the government could carry no additional burden of expenditures without "grave risks."

Kasper's comment was characteristic of that of many others who came to the convention prepared to fight for a bonus, but declared after hearing Mr. Hoover speak for 13 minutes that they were "with him to the finish."

While some delegations declared they still planned to vote in favor of a bonus, the general feeling faded that the fight over this question would be the most bitter of the convention. In the place of the cry for beer, the cry for beer.

This demand first was heard as President Hoover left the speaker's platform yesterday. It then was shouted for fun, but the cry was taken up and although Mr. Hoover apparently did not notice, the shouting was general as he hurried back to his train. Today the shouting was more serious.

Among the thousands of delegates the impression was general and almost contradicted that the Legion would heed Mr. Hoover's warning and dismiss immediate bonus payments from its list of issues.

"The president has taken a sane, sensible stand," declared John R. Quinn, Los Angeles, former national commander. "California will back him."

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE IS GIVEN $25 FINE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, former movie comedian, was $25 out of pocket today because he smashed glasses on the street after a policeman arrested him early Sunday morning.

Arbuckle denied he had liquor and told the judge he sat on a bottle when he entered his automobile. "I thought it was a practical joke and tossed it into the street just as a policeman stepped up," Arbuckle explained.

Twenty-five dollars fine," announced Judge Harold B. Landreth. Eugene Allen, screen writer arrested with Arbuckle on a charge of interfering with an officer, asked for a jury trial and the date was set for October 23.

13 YOUTHS ESCAPE FROM REFORMATORY

GRANITE, Okla., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Thirteen youths, from 15 to 25 years old, were hunted today, after escaping from the Oklahoma reformatory here.

Three prison employees were kidnapped by the boys in their escape into the foothills of the Wichita mountains. The three employees, two guards and the steward, were released, unharmed, by their youthful but "hard boiled" captors.

Almost 200 other inmates of the reformatory turned down an opportunity to escape. They were in the yard and could have walked out unhindered, after the guards had been kidnapped, but they chose to stay.

VIOLENT STORMS
EYES MOVED, Ia., Sept. 22.—(UPI)—Violent storms broke over the southern section of Iowa last night, taking one death and causing extensive property damage.

High winds were responsible for most of the loss to property, and lightning claimed the life of Frank Stump, a farmer, who was struck as he walked across a field.

Hail added to the damage caused by the storm at Bloomfield, where stones described as nearly as large as eggs clattered down on unprotected windows.

GOETZ ON TRIAL FOR LIQUOR SALE

Rudy Goetz, son of J. A. Goetz, service station proprietor at 2701 South Main street, went on trial in the Santa Ana justice court today, charged with sale of liquor.

He was one of the group arrested in the countywide liquor raids made by Sheriff Logan Jackson and District Attorney Sam Collins several weeks ago.

The entire morning was taken selecting a jury and the case was expected to require the entire day. The trial is being held before Judge Tom Pickering.

J. A. Goetz, charged with possession of liquor, is expected to come to court Thursday for his trial. He was arrested during the raid.

Attention, Iowans, Missourians and folks from the other corn growing states. Mrs. Elizabeth Trotter, R. D. No. 4, box 314, has some field corn on South Ritchey street that would make the average visiting middle western farmer homesick.

She has numerous stalks that reach a height of 15 feet. One stalk, which sprouted in a lima bean field, not only rose to 15 feet, but had two cobs that were 13 inches long. The grains are large and white. The corn field was irrigated but once.

PLANE TO DROP FARM PICNIC PRIZE TICKETS

Sky bulletins will announce the annual picnic and Muster Day for the farmers of Orange county to be held Friday at Irvine Park when an airplane piloted by Ralph Mitchell, Irvine rancher and member of the Orange County Farm Bureau accompanied by Charles Logan, of Tustin, flies over the county tomorrow releasing tickets over the 21 rural schools.

Mitchell will start from the Eddie Martin airport, Santa Ana, and fly over the schools during the noon hour. The 2000 tickets will be numbered and 100 will carry special prizes to the holders at the picnic. It was stated by Ray Starbuck, of Fullerton, who is chairman of the special prize committee.

"This will be a big day for the rural school children," Starbuck asserted. "They will be craning their necks during the noon hour from 12 to 1 o'clock watching for the gift plane."

Hundreds of Orange county farmers will meet in what is expected to prove the greatest mobilization of the agricultural interests of the county during the year. The purpose of the muster is to show the organized power of the farming element, not only in this county but throughout the nation where similar gatherings will be held simultaneously.

Principal speakers who will address the farmers after an afternoon of sport and basket dinner at 6:30 p. m. include R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau federation; and Prof. L. B. Smith, of the University of California. Senator Samuel Shortridge, of San Francisco, may also speak if present materials.

The picnic program, beginning at 3 o'clock, will interest all, according to A. F. Schroeder, West Orange, general chairman of the day. He said that those who could not reach the park by 3 o'clock will find continuous stunts and games in progress throughout the afternoon.

Thief Gets $800 Worth of Cloth

Clothing and cloth goods valued at $800 were stolen from the Larsen Tailor shop, 117½ West Third street, some time last night by thieves who gained entrance by breaking a glass in the front door.

Only one suit of clothes was taken, the remainder of the loot consisting of cloth goods, ready to be made into suits, it was reported. The clothing was packed in a box and the thief apparently walked out the front door after the crime was committed.

Hold Inquest In Accident Death Of Peder Larsen

An inquest into the death of Peder Larsen, formerly of Santa Ana, and four others in an automobile collision on the San Luis Rey highway, east of Oceanside, Sunday was scheduled at Oceanside today.

Larsen was a sheet metal worker and had many friends in this vicinity.

The other four killed were A. A. Courtial, Los Angeles; J. A. Liddy, Oceanside; Mrs. T. R. Wallace and her daughter, Rae F. Wallace, Los Angeles.

Although a coroner's jury, early this afternoon, returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Paul Winkler, 16 year old Tustin boy who was killed at 2:30 p. m. Sunday when his motorcycle crashed into a car driven by Steve Boras, Santa Ana, at South Main street and Central avenue. Boras was charged of manslaughter, it was said at the office of District Attorney Sam Collins.

Assistant District Attorney E. B. Kaufman said Boras would be held on a charge of manslaughter, as he had said in his own story of the accident that he was on the left side of the road at the time of the crash.

Death resulted from a fractured skull and a crushed chest, according to the jury. The inquest was held at the Winbiger Funeral parlors.

Julius Connors, 19, who was riding on the same motorcycle with Winkler at the time of the accident is in the county hospital suffering from a fractured leg. His condition today was reported as improved.

PROHIBITION IS REAL ISSUE AT LEGION PARLEY

tant said: "We are with the president to the finish."

The American Legion turned from the routine affairs of serious business today for the gorgeous spectacle of the big parade.

Peace time's greatest civilian march was assembled and ready to march for hours past the reviewing stands filled with high public officers and heads of the Legion.

More than 350 bands and drum corps were to be included in the gigantic review.

Officials estimated that more than 1,000,000 persons would probably review the parade.

The contest for band and drum corps honors has led as much along the lines of sartorial perfection as musical. Uniforms that would have been the envy of Napoleon bedecked the members. Many crack bands carry valets and three and four sets of uniforms to insure perfect appearance. Glistening bright chromium-plated trench helmets, brass helmets, scarlet blouses, white blouses, gold braid, bright blue hats, red hats, hats styled from the Alpine chaussons, hats of French overseas type, hats of the doughboy overseas style—all mingled to present a kaleidoscopic whirl of color and pageantry.

The bugles blare. Rolling, thundering drums; stirring, swinging marching songs; straight lines of marching soldier men; grim reviewing stands, awl with the maddening, intoxicating gaiety of a mardi gras.

Scores of Bands. All downtown Detroit was filled with the mingled sounds of scores of bands and drum corps that marched and counter marched to drill and practice enroute to the formation center.

Finally the head of the column swung past the city hall, with police fighting to hold back the cheering spectators. A platoon of mounted police led the way with a company of regular army troops following.

As the Legionnaires and their auxiliaries swung along, 27 army planes from Selfridge field swept overhead.

Of the hundreds of bands and drum corps in the line the honor of leading went to the Electric Post band from Milwaukee and the Miami, Fla., drum corps, last year's champions. Then came the soldiers of '17 and '28.

Veterans from United States possessions—Puerto Rico, Philippines, Alaska and Hawaii—led the way. Many were in trim marching uniforms; others in muffs. Strains of martial music came from the hundreds of bands and the stirring rumble of the drums was almost continuous.

additional cost of 25 cents per basket, this leaving his firm still with the lower price. The competitive representative objected that this was not regular, but members of the board pointed out that they were accepting the lower bid on the 16-gauge basket, with the right to exercise their option of selecting the heavier basket.

Steam Heating
Contracts on steam heating and on steel partitions in toilets and shower rooms were not awarded. The board conferred with Robert S. McMinn of Seal Beach, low bidder on heating, before deciding to defer action. Before awarding the partition bid the board wishes to go into technical differences regarding material in the partitions.

Bids on the general contract, on the basis of accepting four alternatives on tile floors and wainscoting and on copper gutters and leaders, were as follows: Barrows Construction company, Santa Ana, $22,711; George E. Bartlett, Long Beach, $22,147; John C. Blystone, Brea, $22,275; Crist Fisher, Los Angeles, $22,318; Jules Markel, Santa Ana, $21,524; R. C. MacMillan, Santa Ana, $22,858; Theron Means, Santa Ana, $22,508; O. T. Moore, Long Beach, $21,534; John Simpson and company, Los Angeles, $21,972; Wilson & Bever, Santa Ana and Anaheim, $21,578. Locker and basket bids were as follows: Berger Manufacturing company, Los Angeles, $1580; Lyon Metal Products company, Los Angeles, $1325.53; Wehrly & Co., Pico, $1675.94, with alternate of heavier basket, $1589. The lower bid on the heavier basket was explained when it was pointed out that the Wehrly concern produces this basket itself.

Bids on partitions for toilets and showers were as follows: Van Dien Young, Santa Ana, $3770; Santa Ana Lumber company, for the Albatross company, $2895; Santa Ana Lumber company, for the Sany Metal company of Cleveland, O., $3040.

Steam-heating bids were as follows: Hickman brothers, San Pedro, $5261; Hill and Son, Santa Ana, $6385; Pacific Pipe and Supply company, Santa Ana, $5168, and Robert McMinn, Seal Beach, $4800.

$1500 Warrant Is Given Legion For Celebration Here

That preparations for celebration of Armistice day in Santa Ana this year are under way was evidenced today when the board of supervisors authorized drawing of a $1500 warrant in favor of Elmer Schaniel, chairman of the finance committee of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion for advertising county at the celebration.

The warrant will be drawn on the advertising fund. Each year the American Legion is in charge of the county-wide Armistice day event, which is held in turn in various Orange county cities.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Even though now the way seems dark and dreary and the cup of life empty of joy, there is something you can do. If you can not see ahead with sufficient confidence to point the way for others whose hearts are broken, you can reach out in sympathy with them and endeavor to encourage them to go bravely on seeking to find the way which the Master promised to reveal and which leads to strength and self-mastery into the land of everlasting life with those who have gone on a little bit ahead.

The Master spoke to you when He said: "Go ye and prepare a place for you." It is your task now to give room to your faith and to go forward for that richer service with Him which awaits you.

LETTERS TELL STOP TO REACHES HEART

The Register today received the second of two letters. The first came eight days ago. They tell a story and illustrate the service that is rendered in many, many homes in Santa Ana—possibly not all to the same degree and not all in the same way, but all in the same spirit.

When the first letter was received, it was turned over to the Community Chest, and they in turn passed it on to the Salvation Army. What Captain Yuna did is quite clear.

Read these two letters. They are filled with human interest. And, incidentally, they evidence the heart and soul of the mother and her gratitude.

We are omitting the name, as the letters were not sent for publication, but the second letter cheered us, and we wanted all to share it, for all people in Santa Ana make these things possible—Editor.

The Request

"Could I ask your kind assistance in a matter of great importance to me? My husband has had only seven days' work in months, in fact, since June. I have been able, with two grocery orders from the county, to get enough to eat. But as far as clothes are concerned, we are absolutely bare.

"There is a baby girl a year old who needs shoes and stockings and underwear and some kind of a wrap and cap. A baby of 2½ years who needs shoes and stockings and underwear and a cap of some sort and a boy of five that is anxious to go to school, but can't for lack of practically everything, mostly shoes.

"If I could secure a small loan, I would work it out or pay it back as I earn it. I have a job now that will last a few days anyway, I hope, but won't enable me to buy these necessary things and these foggy mornings are awfully cold on little, bare feet.

"And I think, mainly and mostly, my husband needs a pair of trousers, so that he might be able to go out and look for work. Right now we live in terror when he goes out, for fear of his coming home in a barrel. If you could only direct me to where I could get work or where he could, so that we might get these few things that mean so much to us and so little to many, many folks. Thank you."

Aid Received

Following is the text of the note received today:

"This is only a note to thank you for directing my appeal for clothes to the Salvation Army. Since Captain Yuna showed up last Friday like a blue-clad Santa, our household anthem has changed from 'Meadow Blues' to 'Happy Days Are Here Again!'

"With the boost they gave us and the encouragement of my 'lord and master' receiving, getting or high-jacking a job, I'm on top of the world. The big boy now has shoes to go to school in—Hurray! The next boy has shoes, and, oh, such a 'booful' blue suit that makes his big blue eyes bluer, and we sister has two pajama suits that make her look like an animated doll—and shoes, too, thank you. You should see her, so stiff-legged she goes, all puffed with pride like a banty rooster.

"And hubby now meets me after work, with a pair of trousers that 'perade' up Main street with our best, Sir! And all in thanks to you and our blessed Salvation Army. I know now why they call it Salvation. Thanking you sincerely from all our family."

Aching Kidneys Made Strong or Money Refunded

If kidneys and bladder have become weak, irritated—causing sleeplessness, painful urination and back-breaking aches, look out for trouble.

For prompt, effective relief ask your druggist for a box of Wildunger Tea, containing valuable kidney-activating salts from the famous Wildunger Bad in Germany. This mild European medicine helps more than a ton of harsh drugs, say many physicians who prescribe it. In fact, so sure are the importers of this amazing preparation that you'll be overjoyed at the relief it brings that they have instructed druggists to refund every penny unless you're delighted.

Even high blood pressure, rheumatic aches, pains, stiffness and swelling, and acid indigestion quickly respond to Wildunger Tea. Get a big box today. Use it faithfully. If you're not absolutely convinced that you are getting well after taking only one box, your money back.

You can get Wildunger Tea from C. S. Kelley, Druggist, 101 E. 4th Street, Santa Ana—Adv.

Shortest Will Filed With Clerk

One of the shortest wills on record here was filed yesterday with County Clerk J. M. Backs by Loren George Mills, of Santa Ana, who asked for letters of administration in the estate of his deceased mother, Ida E. Mills, who died on September 9.

"It is my will that upon my decease all that I possess of whatsoever nature shall pass to my son, Loren George Mills," the will said, in disposing of property valued at not more than $5000. The will did not name an executor.

SCHOOL BOARD FAILS TO AGREE ON INSURANCE

After listening to representatives of the local association of insurance agents, the Santa Ana board of education last night wrestled again with the problem of providing public liability insurance but took no action.

The board has before it a number of offers for supplying the policies. Although the offers are not regarded as bids, the figures submitted by William McKay, non board agent, is considerably lower than any other. Last night the association representatives devoted considerable time to drawing comparisons between the company McKay represents and the one suggested by the association agents in the figure they have submitted.

They also ask the board to consider the ability of the agents to render service.

Finally, W. Maxwell Burke, of the board of education, emphasized a former objection to going into the matter while McKay was not present and George Wells, school board president, agreed that it would be more fair to discontinue the discussion.

In discussing the matter after the association representatives had departed, the board decided that the stability of the two companies and the saving of about $500 on the lower offer were the two most important factors to consider, but reached no conclusion as to an award.

The group appearing on behalf of the association agents included M. O. Robbins, John Henderson, Harold Harrison, and R. G. Cartwright.

Low figures which the board is considering on insurance are as follows: E. M. Sandquist, $1686.64 for one year, and $4550 for three years; Lydia Fisher, $1587.50 one year, $5286.25 three years; William McKay, $1394.73 one year, $3522.57 three years; association, $1548.43 one year, $4180.77 three years, and A. S. Ralph, $1345.97 one year, $3636.12 three years.

Coverage being considered is $10,000 to $50,000 on school property with the exception of bleachers and auditoriums, and $10,000 to $300,000 on bleachers and auditoriums.

SALARY BOOST ORDERED FOR 12 TEACHERS

Increases in salaries for 12 teachers calling for an additional expenditure of $1800 were voted by the Santa Ana board of education last night over the protest of W. M. Burke, board member who opposed granting the increases on the ground that contracts had already been signed at the lower figure and that teachers as a class were among the best paid in the county during present business conditions.

Burke also opposed general salary increases for teachers according to a salary schedule that has been in effect in the past, at the time salaries were fixed and teachers elected last summer.

Dr. Percy Davis, city school superintendent and other board members took the position in regard to the salary increase voted last night that the teachers in question have been assigned extra work or have qualified for higher certificates. They declared that the increases were justified because they were in accordance with the salary schedule they regarded as a moral if not a legal obligation. Dr. Davis said the increases are within the budget.

Dr. Burke maintained that since the teachers affected had already signed contracts for the year on the lower figure they should be bound by these contracts.

Elect Two Teachers

Dr. Davis reported to the board that there has been an increase of about 500 students in the schools of the city during the first week with no material increase in the number of teachers.

Because of an unexpected increase in the Edison school kindergarten, where there are 55 pupils, he recommended the election of Louise Hampton, of Santa Ana, as assistant there. The board elected her at a salary of $1000 a year.

The board also elected Miss Dodley Harper, formerly of Yuma, Ariz., as part time accountant and assistant in piano work at the two junior high schools, on recommendation of Dr. Davis. Her salary for four days each week will be $75 a month. W. Maxwell Burke, board member, asked if it would be possible to select a local teacher. Dr. Davis replied that he favors selection of local teachers and that in almost every case this had been done in this year's appointments, but that he felt that in this case the board would be fortunate in employing Miss Harper under the conditions named.

He also pointed out that an outside point of view is valuable.

Dr. Davis called attention to the fact that in the junior college enrollment of 647 students, 61 per cent are from outside the Santa Ana district. Altogether 77 per cent of the student body is from within Orange county.

Not Require Moving

He also reported that after investigating the situation of various teachers in the local schools who are living outside Santa Ana, he felt that it would work a distinct hardship to require residence in the city for them at this time. He suggested that in future elections this would be a wise policy to follow. He said that he was convinced there are more teachers living in Santa Ana and teachers outside the city than there are teaching here and living outside.

In accordance with the board's decision to join the Business Men's association, this body is securing credit information for the board. Dr. Davis said, adding that the district attorney also is investigating whether this membership can be a legal charge against the district.

The board agreed to removal of several orange trees at the Herbert Hoover school in order that the Parent-Teacher association can erect a lath house which can be used for an outdoor auditorium and lunch room.

Discuss Dedication

The dedication program for the new Willard school was discussed and the board agreed to co-operate with the Native Sons of the Golden West in the project, with the understanding that the same privilege of taking part in the affair is still open to other organizations.

Dr. Davis asked the board to consider the problem of Santa Ana students attending other schools and students from other districts attending Santa Ana schools. He said that Alhambra insists that in case of a Santa Ana student attending school there, this district must pay the district tax above the county and state aid which the school receives for the student. Los Angeles, he said, has refused to pay anything for its students attending junior college elsewhere.

George Wells, president of the board, reported on eating lunch at the high school cafeteria and praised the conditions there. In this connection Dr. Margaret Baker suggested that at the Willard school an improvement could be made in the manner in which sinks drain.

Transfer Funds

In line with a recommendation made by R. D. Crenshaw, auditor, the board adopted a resolution authorizing George B. Holmes, of the commercial department of the high school and junior college, to transfer to the county treasury certain school funds, such as the cafeteria funds, so that they will be drawn upon only by warrant in the usual manner. This does not affect student body funds.

The board received a letter from Joe Shoen, 252 Berkeley street, Santa Ana, offering to remove the south building of the old Francisco Willard Junior High school and pay a bonus of $100, if the board would turn over the material in the building to him. The same offer holds for the main building. It was understood. The board did not act on the matter but expressed the opinion that it does not wish to make such an arrangement at this time.

BAUMGARTNER WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Devises listed in the will and residing in Santa Ana are J. P. Baumgartner, Ella S. Palmer, sister; Nellie Warner, sister; Harlan Taylor, grand nephew; Carolyn Warner, grand niece, and Bonnie Warner, grand nephew.

SELECT THIRD GROUP IN BABY PRIZE CONTEST

THIRD WEEK WINNERS
Joceline Caroline Hansen 7850
George Ronald Harris . . $1650
Lorraine Kavathas $1500

Joceline Caroline Hansen had little trouble winning first place of the third week elimination of the Register-Neely-Fox theaters baby contest which closed Saturday, polling almost five times as many votes as her nearest competitor. George Ronald Harris was second and Lorraine Kavathas was third.

With the completion of the third week, nine babies now have been nominated for the grand prize. The fourth and final week of the contest is being staged this week, and three more babies will be selected Sunday. Pictures of the babies are on display at the Neely store, commercial National bank and Fox West coast theater.

Next week, these twelve babies will be entered in a final heat, the end of which will see the selection of the grand winner. The fourth and final week of the contest will receive a $50 savings account. The other 11 also will be given prizes.

Votes for the finals will be obtained in the same way as in the preliminary races. The Register offers 500 votes for every new two months subscription of the paper and one vote is given for every cent spent at the Neely store.

ANNOUNCE NIGHT SCHOOL CURRICULUM; OFFERS MANY OPPORTUNITIES

The night school this year is being organized in three divisions—one located at the senior high school meeting on Monday and Tuesday nights, one at Julia Lathrop Junior high on Tuesday and Wednesday, and one at Willard Junior high on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Classes meet for a two-hour period from 7 to 9 p. m.

An organization of this type is possible because of a law recently passed by the state legislature permitting organization of free evening classes in junior high schools as well as senior high schools. The department of adult education in the Santa Ana schools has arranged its program of organized study that it will be more available to the people in all parts of the school district. Classes have been arranged to meet without conflicts with the regular meetings of other organizations. It was found by careful survey that it was impossible to choose any two nights which served the entire community.

The following schedule has been arranged for night school classes.

From time to time throughout this week there will be more detailed explanation of the type of work to be offered in the various classes.

Classes meeting at the high school, Walnut and Ross streets, which open Monday, September 28, and Tuesday, September 29, with Miss Eliza Johnson as principal, are as follows: Monday—Spanish, intermediate, room 8, Wright; Spanish, throughout the week in order to avoid conflicts with the regular meetings of other organizations. WHAT SANTA ANANS THINK ABOUT COLORADO AQUEDUCT

CHRIS AABY—We need the water, one way or another—every way we can get it—and I believe it's a good thing to bring in this Colorado river water to supplement what we have.

MAX V. AKERS—We've got to have the aqueduct if we're going to stay in this country. All of us down here at the S. A. Tent and Awning company are strong for the bonds.

MRS. EMMETT B. ALLEN—We're for the aqueduct bonds at our house.

NICK D. MEYER—There is a difference between going in debt for necessities and for luxuries. I am opposed to bonds for luxuries and I favor bonds for necessities. More water is an absolute necessary thing for Southern California so I'm strong for this particular project.

A. T. HOLMES—We certainly need water and I intend to vote for the bonds.

F. A. BIRCHARD—There is no question about our need of water. Of course I'm going to vote for the aqueduct.

JOHN KNOX, Mayor—Faced as we are with constantly lowering water levels, God alone knows how long we may survive without replenishment of our water supply. In order to be safe upon this question a "yes" vote is absolutely necessary next Tuesday. The bonds should carry by an overwhelming majority and we will have abundance of water for many generations. Otherwise, we might as well begin to think of moving out.

J. F. ADAMS—My parents came to Santa Ana about 20 years ago. I followed them two years later, and since that time three brothers and a sister arrived. Many families, one by one, have come here from other states until all of its members, like mine, are living here. Southern California is largely peopled by the fathers, sons, brothers, sisters, cousins and friends of those who were the first in their circles to locate here and many thousands more are just waiting until they can get jobs before they, too, move here. If we don't get additional water, we'll have to write East and tell them not to come, that we haven't enough water for any more people. And if our present supply runs short or salt water enters the underground basin, many families already here will have to break up and move elsewhere. By all means I'm going to vote "yes."

C. D. O'CAIN—If we were going to stand still or go backward, it would be different. But we're going ahead, with a greater population, and we need the Colorado water to do it.

ROLLA R. HAYS, Jr.—I'm for the bonds in every respect and intend to vote for them next Tuesday.

J. L. McBRIDE, city trustee—This is the best set-up Santa Ana has ever had for getting an outside supply of water, and it is only possible because Los Angeles has been fair enough to permit the smaller cities to join with her to bring in water from the Colorado river. If we don't grasp our opportunity under these favorable conditions, then Los Angeles is big enough and rich enough to build the aqueduct herself and to supply only her own needs. If that happens, we'll have to annex to Los Angeles within 25 years to get water, just as many smaller cities annexed to Los Angeles in recent years in order to obtain Owens Valley water. If we can't see and accept our golden opportunity for water independence when it is here, which I believe we will do, then it would serve us right to have to join Los Angeles to get what we can now have under more favorable conditions.

S. A. V. I. BOARD URGES WATER BOND ADOPTION

Urging citizens of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, Orange county members of the Metropolitan Water district, to vote the Colorado river aqueduct water bonds September 29, a resolution endorsing the project was passed by directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company yesterday.

The resolution points out that the water levels are being lowered at a rapid rate; that there is not sufficient water in this basin to maintain the present development; and that the Colorado river is the only available outside source of water.

Declaring that the interests of city residents and agriculturists of this basin are identical, the resolution expresses thanks to the people of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton for striving to secure outside water, thereby releasing to farmers the water that would be used by these cities.

75 CASES WHISKEY, PRISONER CAPTURED

United States customs officers captured 75 cases of whiskey worth $4,500 near San Clemente early Sunday morning. It was learned here today. One prisoner also was taken. He gave the name of Nick Johnson, of Los Angeles. The liquor and the prisoner were taken to San Diego soon after the raid. The catch was made near the Santa Fe station at San Clemente.

CITIZEN PROTESTS FOREIGN LABOR

The board of supervisors today received a protest in a letter from John T. Browne, of Doheny Park, to the effect that Mexican labor is being hired in preference to American workers on the state job of widening the Coast highway near Doheny Park. The board will inform Browne that the project is a state one over which it has no jurisdiction.

"They have a bunch of Mexicans working without papers," the letter said. "We, the citizens of this country, must have the preference." The communication concluded by saying that if necessary the matter would be brought to the attention of the United States department of labor.

Mexicans To Get Facts On Weevil

Mexicans who grow chili peppers are to meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Talbert school house for an explanation of the program for eradicating the pepper weevil after the harvest season this fall. It was announced today by Eric E. Eastman, of the farm advisor's office who is in charge of the arrangements.

The address will be in Spanish so that Spanish speaking growers will be able to understand clearly the program of the farm advisor's office in attempting to protect the pepper growing industry of the county. M. Seanes, representing the pepper growers, will present the talk in Spanish.

Let's talk price

● Maybe you've noticed that Norge advertising never talks about price. And the reason for that, strangely enough, is that Norge prices are low... in spite of Norge high quality.

● We don't advise anyone to choose Norge for its low price. Because we know that through the long years that you will enjoy Norge's dependable and low cost performance, its convenient size and arrangement and its simple beauty, you'll forget all about what you paid for it. Price is the least important reason for choosing Norge.

● But there it is, just the same... a price that makes it easier to have Norge and to enjoy the faithful, year in, year out service that Norge will give you.

● Frankly, the reason for Norge's low price lies in the simplicity of its mechanism... the famous Rollator with only three moving parts. It's just a roller slowly revolving in a permanent bath of protective oil, where there is actually no metal to metal contact... so well designed and so well made that it actually is almost everlasting.

● Whether you consider price or not, by all means see the Norge before you buy.

SCOUTS PLAN FOR CARNIVAL AT NEWPORT

While 30 troops from over Orange county have made entries, the real competition for honors at the first annual Boy Scout water carnival at Newport Bay next Saturday is expected to be between eight contenders. Troop honors and individual honors will be awarded for swimming events, canoe contests and comic stunts, it was announced today by Christy Allen, assistant county executive.

Allen said, however, that other troops now regarded as dark entries might race off with the honors when the meet was held.

About 500 Boy Scouts are expected to enter the events of the carnival, planned under the auspices of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

One of the strongest contestants will be troop No. 29, sponsored by

DETAILED STATEMENT TELLS ROUTE OF COLORADO RIVER AQUEDUCT TO TERMINAL

Details of the construction and route of the Colorado aqueduct were released today in a statement from Santa Ana headquarters of the citizens committees on North Main street. "Like a giant artery bearing the lifeblood of civilization—water—the aqueduct will extend across windswept desert plains and under rugged mountain ranges," the statement says.

"It will be a great undertaking for the present and future generations of the Metropolitan district, including the cities of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton.

"Water will be diverted from a reservoir to be created by a dam across the Colorado river at what is known as the upper Parker site, a point 17 miles above the little Arizona town of Parker.

Concrete Dam

"The damsite is located one-half mile below the mouth of the Bill Williams river. The river is about 350 feet wide at this point and is confined between steep, rock banks.

"Preliminary surveys have indicated that a concrete dam of the gravity type will probably be constructed, after the flow is controlled by the Hoover dam, almost 150 miles upstream. The proposed diversion dam, it is indicated, will raise the water surface 72 feet, from an elevation of 378 feet to 450 feet.

"Flood waters will be controlled by a battery of spillways placed on the crest of the dam. The basin above the dam will have a storage capacity of 716,600 acre feet.

"The actual intake of the aqueduct will be located two miles upstream from the diversion dam. The water will be pumped in two lifts to a height of 624 feet and to an elevation of 1043 feet above sea level.

"From the pump lift the line passes through the Whipple mountain in a series of short tunnels having a total length of 5.4 miles.

17,260-Foot Siphon

"From the end of these tunnels to the intake of the Freda siphon near Rice the distance is 40 miles, all in smooth country except for the first 10 miles, which are cut by several shallow washes.

"Crossing a long natural depression at Freda in a giant concrete siphon 17,260 feet long, the line continues on the surface for 11.4 miles to the Granite mountains, which are to be penetrated with a 10-mile tunnel. The rock there is coarse-grained granite.

"Following along the east slope of the Coxcomb mountains in lined canal, the line penetrates this range with a four-mile tunnel.

"Emerging from the Coxcomb tunnel, the route follows a lined canal around the Pinto valley to a short tunnel through a small easterly spur of the Eagle mountains. About two miles south of this tunnel, a lift of 264 feet raises the water to an elevation of 1103 feet, the intake of another short tunnel.

"Continuing a lined canal to Entrance hill, a distance of four miles to another pump lift of 235 feet, the line then passes through a short tunnel and follows a lined canal for 9.5 miles to Hayfield dry lake.

"This furnishes a natural reservoir which will be utilized in connection with this route. The storage capacity is 90,000 acre feet.

Short Tunnels

"The route diverts from the Hayfield reservoir on the north side, where a lift of 450 feet is made to an elevation of 1807 feet.

"The line then passes through several short tunnels, emerges on the surface and passes through Shaver's summit in a covered conduit. Then it continues through the Little San Bernardino mountains to Whitewater wash in alternating short tunnels, siphons and short pieces of conduit.

"Crossing Whitewater wash in a siphon, the line penetrates several narrow ridges with short tunnels and then follows a conduit to the portal of the San Jacinto tunnel near Cabazon.

San Jacinto Tunnel

"From this point, the tunnel, bearing southwest, passes beneath the north side of the San Jacinto mountains and emerges into San Jacinto valley on the east side of Potrero creek. This tunnel is 13.7 miles from end to end, the longest on the route, and probably the first to be started after approval of the bonds.

"The line then bears westerly through Lakeview and Perris valleys, entering a seven-mile tunnel into Cajalco reservoir.

"From Cajalco reservoir, the water will be diverted into the distributing system and delivered to the city limits of the 13 member cities, under pressure.

"The $220,000,000 bond issue will cover the cost of this distribution system, as well as construction of the aqueduct itself."

the Santa Ana American Legion post. The troop has placed entries in all the events. In the 50-yard back stroke entrants are Jim Pegues, Dick Geeting and Bob Davenport. Jack McClay and Melvin Durbin will perform in canoe tilting and in the canoe race. The 200-yard free-style relay team will be composed of Bob Davenport, Dave Styring, Dick Geeting and Melvin Durbin. The medley team includes Bob Davenport, back stroke; Melvin Durbin, breast stroke; and Jim Pegues, free style.

The 50-yard dash event will be entered by about 10 boys of troop No. 29, the fastest of whom are Dave Styring, Jim Pegues and Harry Durbin.

The bathing contest, comic event, will place in the competition from the Santa Ana troop Jack McClay, William Flood, Phillip Youel, Bob Davenport, Jim Pegues, Franklin Munselle and Francis Davis.

From other troops of the county reports are being received at Scout headquarters concerning plans for entries. Troop No. 27, Santa Ana, under the direction of Carl Bower, will be a threat. Another Santa Ana troop, No. 24, is also strong with such entrants as Harold Woodard, Sam Tucker, Demont Galbraith and Claude Owens.

Anahelm troop No. 74 has selected as leaders for the carnival William Love, Phillip Hammond, Mark Anderson and James Macrae. The leader of the team from Anahelm troop No. 72 is Corwin Roquet.

Newport Beach troop No. 5, with the carnival being held in its own back yard, is counted on as one of the principal contestants.

No. 6 Of a Series COLORADO RIVER AQUEDUCT FACTS

Public Ownership Of Our Water

Water is a natural resource.

The American public has on many occasions shown its belief that natural resources should be preserved, insofar as is practicable, for the benefit of the public.

National parks preserve natural scenic beauties, game refuges preserve the wild life, and now, for the benefit of the great Southwest, the government is starting in to conserve the flood waters of the Colorado river, by building the Hoover dam.

The flood waters, as a natural resource, have been going to waste into the ocean. Now the government preserves this water for the beneficial use of her people, for domestic and irrigation purposes.

The people of Los Angeles and vicinity, who carried through the agitation for the construction of Hoover dam, are entitled to 1,050,000 acre feet of these flood waters per year, or a billion gallons of water per day.

The government owns the flood waters its dam will save, and has contracted to deliver this 1,050,000 acre feet of it per year to us, at a cost of only 25 cents per acre foot for storage.

THE PUBLIC OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA OWNS THIS WATER BUT WE'VE GOT TO GO AND GET IT!

To get it, the great Metropolitan district aqueduct was planned and is now ready for construction as soon as the people evidence their approval by voting "Yes" next Tuesday.

If we don't build the aqueduct and thus can't get our water, it will either continue to run into the sea or else be sold to other communities and we will lose our rights to its use.

BUT IF WE DO BUILD THE AQUEDUCT, THEN WE GET OUR WATER AT 25 CENTS PER ACRE FOOT, PLUS THE COST OF AQUEDUCT MAINTENANCE, AND THEREAFTER NOBODY ELSE CAN LAY CLAIM TO THIS SUPPLY.

Most of the cities, including Santa Ana, Anaheim, and Fullerton, own their own water distributing systems. We have demonstrated for many years the advantage of public ownership of our water plants, for they are all making a profit and that profit belongs to the public.

The public owns our water systems, and if the aqueduct bonds are approved, the public will also own an outside water supply to go into those systems and make these cities independent of our underground basin whose levels have been dropping so rapidly.

To vote "Yes" on Tuesday, means that you believe in the public ownership of our water resources and that the public should assure themselves of a supply for the future, and not leave water to be exploited by private interests.

We can continue our public ownership of water without a cent of local expense for distribution, for we already own our own distributing system within the city, and this Colorado river water will be delivered into our city mains under pressure.

It is conceivable that owners of private water supplies and those who may have ambitions to make money for themselves through the sale of water, may oppose the aqueduct from selfish motives and because its construction will forever insure public ownership of the water supply of Southern California. Such opposition as this offers all the more reason why every local citizen who favors keeping this resource in the hands of the people, should make it a point to approve the bonds.

If the Southern California public doesn't take what is rightfully its own, then there is a possibility that someone else will. This "someone else" may be Arizona, Mexico, or some private water company which hopes to make money in later years by bringing in the water and selling it to us.

If YOU want to continue public ownership of our water, then vote "YES" on Tuesday. If you prefer to leave yourselves at the mercy of some private water company or do without water entirely, then of course you will oppose the bonds.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT COLORADO AQUEDUCT

1. Local rainfall is not sufficient for our modern needs; we MUST get an outside supply, and the Colorado river is the only known source for such additional water.

2. It's a common problem to all of Southern California, so united action of many cities is required to do what no single city can do. The Metropolitan water district was organized for the one purpose of bringing in Colorado river water and is the only organization available for this purpose.

3. Los Angeles will pay 75 per cent of the cost of the aqueduct, yet is limited to 50 percent of district control, so the smaller cities need not fear any possible "big city" scheme.

4. On the basis of assessed valuation, Santa Ana will pay 1-117th of the aqueduct cost, or $1,870,000 in long-term bonds to be retired over a period of 50 years.

5. Santa Ana will have the right to 4,350,000 gallons of water per day when the aqueduct is opened about 7 years from now, which will be increased to 8,500,000 gallons per day perhaps 20 years hence, when the city needs additional water and the aqueduct capacity is enlarged to its full limit.

6. Under this bond issue, the water will be delivered to the Santa Ana city limits, inasmuch as the bond issue provides $150,000,000 for the aqueduct itself, and $70,000,000 for distribution lines to the member cities.

7. The aqueduct is necessary to the full success of the great Hoover dam, being built by the United States government. The District has contracted for 36 per cent of the power to be generated at Hoover dam for use at its pumping stations, and thus we all will help to repay the government for the construction costs of the huge dam.

8. The Metropolitan water district has a 13 O L U T E RIGHTS to its water, consisting of a contract with the U. S. government, reinforced by private adjustments along the river, and proceedings under the California state water laws.

9. The District must build the aqueduct, bring in the water and put it to beneficial use with "reasonable diligence" in order to perfect its rights to the water. Delay is dangerous to these rights, and by all means we should start at once.

10. Even if the Hoover dam were never completed, this District could get its water supply from the river 10 months out of the year, when there is sufficient flood flow for our needs, and above existing demands along the river.

11. After the member cities of the district receive their allotment of water, or as much of it as they require, the balance may be sold for irrigation or any other beneficial purpose, the proceeds from such sale going to help pay costs of the aqueduct and maintenance.

12. Quality of the Colorado river water compares favorably with water now in use in Orange county for domestic and irrigation purposes. Yuma and the Imperial valley use Colorado water, so we should have no fears regarding it.

13. Approximately one hundred million dollars will be paid out in wages from this bond issue over the 7-year construction period, to as high as 10,000 men at the peak of activity.

14. Jobs will be allotted to member cities of the district on the same basis as the bonds are distributed and water allocated. At the peak of construction, Santa Ana will be entitled to have 35 local citizen workmen on the aqueduct job.

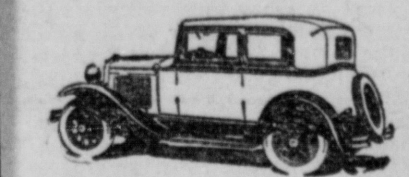

15. The bonds will be sold only as funds are needed to carry forward the construction work, so we will not be paying interest on bonds until the funds are actually in use.

16. No bonds are payable for 15 years, and the only cost during that period will be interest on bonds sold. The aqueduct will therefore have probably eight years in which to become a successful, money-making utility before retirement of the bonds principal will start.

Nature's Medicine for Constipation

The greatest remedy for constipation known to mankind is provided by Nature in the form of herb juices. Plantax, the remarkable liver tonic and internal cleanser, is a special combination of juices or extracts taken from harmless medicinal herbs. Not only does it sweep the bowels free of all accumulated waste matter, but it acts like a charm on the liver, causing that organ to throw off excess bile which pollutes the entire system. The very first dose gives amazing results. You lose that dull, lousy feeling which makes you want to sleep so much. The coating on your tongue disappears. Headaches, sour stomach, indigestion, gas, bilious attacks, dizzy spells, sallow complexion or other symptoms of constipation and torpid liver can no longer exist when your system is thoroughly cleansed of its impurities.

Anybody can take Plantax without injurious effects. It works in a gentle, easy way—no pain or electricity. Large bottles at all good drug stores.

Late News Developments From Anaheim And Vicinity

NEW RECORD IS SET IN SCHOOL REGISTRATIONS

Special from Anaheim.

Attendance in Anaheim elementary schools hit a new high today when a total of 1752 students were recorded at the office of Melbourne A. Gauer, superintendent of city schools. With the attendance mounting steadily each week, more students are expected to register in Anaheim schools during the next few weeks.

School opened in Anaheim two weeks ago yesterday with a enrollment of 1621 pupils. In the seven Anaheim elementary schools, last week the total was swelled to 1690 students and today the records show a total of 1752. Last year at the end of the school year there were 1675 in the schools, according to the annual report made out by Mr. Gauer.

The registration represents an increase of about 130 children since the beginning of the year. The records reveal. Due to the new Horace Mann school this year, the attendance in the various other schools is different than it was last year.

So far this year the Fremont school shows an attendance of 463 while last year the attendance was 496; at the peak attendance last year in January students totaled 517 and at the same time last year the attendance was 505.

At present the Central school ranks next to the Fremont school in number of children with a total of 3254; last year at this same time the attendance was 299 and the peak was reached in January with 318. At the end of the year there were 304 children in the school.

The Palma school is taking care of 228 children at the present time while last year at the same time there were 244. At the end of the year there were 282 attending. The high mark was reached with 254 in May last year.

At present there are 218 children in the Lincoln school while at the same time last year there were 213. At the end of the year there were 202. There are 214 students in the Broadway school while at the same time last year there were 213. At the close of the year there were 219 with the high mark reached in October with 221 in May.

Citron school now has an enrollment of 217. At the same time last year there were 265. There are 158 pupils in the new Horace Mann school. Members of the school board did not expect to fill the school for several years even while plans for building it were in progress, it was reported.

BOOTELEG GASOLINE SELLS FOR 9 CENTS

Special from Anaheim.

Low prices on so-called "bootleg" gasoline were still prevalent in Anaheim today with no signs of the local gas war ending in the near future. Stations in the city were still selling gasoline from prices ranging from 9 1/2 cents a gallon to eight gallons for a dollar. Major stations were still holding the price up to the standard of 16 cents a gallon, but in nearly every case posting signs advertising a cheaper brand of gasoline selling for 14 cents.

Proprietors of major gasoline stations have given up hope of reaching a city-wide agreement to maintain a standard price on gasoline, it was learned today. Effort to standardize the price and reach an agreement by holding meetings to discuss the matter have borne no fruit, it was said.

CHRIST MAGNA CHARTA TOPIC FOR SERMON

Special from Anaheim.

Using the subject "Christ's Magna Charta" and taking the theme of his sermon from John 13:34, Dr. Ralph W. Lee, pastor of the White Temple Methodist church, Sunday morning delivered a striking address, in which he pointed out that while man had made and signed many charters and agreements, human charters at the very best are apt to miss the mark in embodying the divine will. Following is the Rev. Mr. Lee's sermon, in part:

"There have been countless charters made and countless charters signed to settle and keep settled the disputes of mankind, as the different races have endeavored to live together in the same world from the time of creation down to our own day and generation—not still pagan, and in many respects shallow.

"When Jesus came the world—particularly the religious world—had lots of charters, codes and documents. Some of these bore the seal and sanction of the Eternal One. Human charters at the very best are apt to miss the mark in embodying the divine will. Documents of kings who rule by divine right are very likely to become mere shredded parchments in process of economic evolution and world shake-up. Until the will of God becomes the will of man we are due for a succession of selfishness and traditionalism and selfishness are likely to remain in partnership.

"Someone has said, 'there are no enduring charters excepting those which Jehovah has written,' and yet in our day we have set at naught the only two divine documents bearing the seal and insignia of the earth's only enduring potentate—our own living God, the Almighty. I have reference first to that great charter which wisely the sons of men have not thought fit to revise—the Ten Commandments—on which the seal of time's great sovereign is immovably and eternally fixed. The second is the sermon on the mount, that marvelous compilation of spiritual counsel which fell from the lips of Mary's first-born, setting forth the great ultimatum of divine love and mercy.

"When Jesus came the world was a bit weary of the old in religion, the old law, the old tradition, the old God in all of his unrelenting austerity and far-awayness. Between what the Almighty asked them to do and the assistance he gave them, a great many believed a strange and unbridled gulf lay. The old charter of the Ten Commandments had hitherto been for the subjects of Israel, while the sermon on the mount embodied the entire stretch of divine love and sympathy for all tongues and races. That 'ye love one another' is the essence of this new commandment is obvious to all.

"This new commandment of Jesus has challenged the centuries and it still challenges them. To love as a human, like a god, was the crowning achievement of our Saviour which led him to a martyr's death at a place called Calvary. To love as he loved, and on such a serene plane, and with self so completely de-throned, must have been the final objective of God for man. Without a spark of this divine love within one's own soul human life is little more than flesh and personality little more than putty. The greatest thing anyone can do for America is not to Americanize it, important as this may be, or legalize it, or socialize it. The greatest thing is to Christianize it."

ROTARY CLUB HEARS ABOUT WATER BONDS

Special from Anaheim.

Citing figures on the actual cost to the Anaheim tax payer for the bonds to be voted on at the Metropolitan Water District bond election to be held September 29, Walter Humphries, Fullerton's representative on the board of directors of the water district, addressed members of the Anaheim Rotary club when they met yesterday noon in the Elks' clubhouse.

The property owner whose property bears an assessed valuation of $2000 will not have to pay taxes amounting to more than $2.00 a year over the entire period during the period of payment for the aqueduct that will bring Colorado river water to Southern California, the speaker declared.

Anahiem's share in the $220,000,000 project will amount to about $700,000.00 he stated. It is impossible to determine the exact amount as the population may increase considerably and assessed property valuations may change, he asserted. With an increase in population the individual taxpayers share of the taxes would be correspondingly less.

The most widely favored method of taking care of the financial setup in the 13 cities which are members of the district, is to divide the costs of the project into two divisions, operation and maintenance, and construction costs. In this plan operation and maintenance costs would be levied against those who use water in the city. Costs of construction, bond redemption and interest charges would be directly assessed against property.

Humphries pointed out that a total of 900,000 gallons of water can be delivered through the aqueduct each day at an annual approximate cost of $1.00 for each person living in the city.

The speaker was introduced by Harry Sidman, program chairman of the day.

Though Shakespeare didn't meet the radio, he did broadcast these remarks: "Ah, stand by"—Anthony and Cleopatra.

"Take up some other station,"—Coriolanus.

"His lecture will be done ere you have tuned,"—Tamino of the Shrew.

"And my dial goes not true,"—All's Well That Ends Well.

"Tis no matter how it be in tune, so it makes noise enough,"—As You Like It.

"And those musicians that shall play to you hang in the air a thousand leagues from hence,"—Henry IV.

Book Review To Be "Adobe Days"

The book review hour at 11 a. m. tomorrow from KREG will bring a continuation of the review of "Adobe Days" by Mrs. Sarah Bixby Smith, by Mary Burke King, which was started on the hour yesterday morning. The reviews are very popular with many listeners, according to officials of KREG.

THREE POPULAR ORGANIZATIONS ON AIR TODAY

Three of KREG's most popular musical organizations will be heard this evening, beginning at 8:30 o'clock when the Missouri Cornhuskers go on the air with their unique offerings of old time melodies. At 10 p. m. Russell Thompson's Hawaiian Trio gives its weekly program, and at 10:30 another novelty offering by the Six Harvest Hands will be presented.

The Missouri Cornhuskers are big favorites with many listeners, as witnessed by numerous letters and telephone calls received for them. They entertain every Tuesday and Thursday at the same hour from the Santa Ana station.

No less favorites in the opinion of many listeners is Russell Thompson's Hawaiian Trio, which has broadcast many popular programs over KREG in the past and recently returned after an extended vacation.

The Six Harvest Hands, whose program begins at 10:30 p. m., are newcomers, in one sense of the word, but they have been received with whole hearted enthusiasm by their radio audience with their novelty entertainment on their unique instruments.

Like the BATTERY Behind the STARTER

WHEN business activity resumes, it will be THRIFT which will start the machinery moving...thrifty represented largely by money which prudent people have accumulated in their bank accounts.

Like the energy in the storage battery, which whirled the starter until the engine "takes hold", the money in banks will give the impetus of available credit to business enterprises as they resume activity.

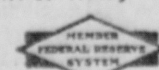

This accumulated energy represents largely not "hoarding", but the prudent, necessary reserves of people who spend wisely but do not spend all they make.

This is a savings bank.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport
By EDDIE WEST

Sports chronicling isn't always a pretty decent sort of a sportsman, and will outlive this mistake. I hold no particular brief for Wagner either. He was palpably mistaken. Even a schoolboy umpire would have confessed such an error as his, counselled with other minds, altered his ruling. Bullheaded, Wagner refused to do anything at all. He proved himself rankly incompetent. But after all he is an umpire. And umpires are entitled to every consideration. Their task is indeed a trying one. They should have more than consideration. They deserve protection. Wagner didn't get it. Wagner was wrong but Daley was wrong when he attacked him. Such conduct did not right Wagner's wrong. Daley should be temporarily suspended for his display of ill temper. League baseball is completed but the suspension should carry over next season for as long, perhaps, as the first quarter of the 1932 National Night league scheduled. Drastic action is vital, not merely to chastise Daley who I know by now is already penitent but to warn others that night baseball after all is still a sport.

PROSELYTING

Dick Hyland, former Stanford football star, has some interesting revelations in this month's "College Humor" with the first installment of "Diary of a Line Smasher." Here is one page from the diary: "Althick came in this afternoon and what an earful he spilled. He was offered a soft job selling automobiles that would pay him $75 a month whether he worked or not. If he did work and sold some cars he got what he earned that way in addition to the $75. "He was also promised he could join the best tong (student society), which incidentally has a lousier chapter on our campus. "He told them he did not think he could get by on $75 a month, that books, incidentals, gymnasium fees and whatnot would eat that up—and then came the nice part. They will give his father a nifty job paying three times what he is getting now and in that way the father will be able to take care of Althick, with some extra. But of course, Yale is not adopting Notre Dame style. You see, it happens that Yale is the cradle of American football, and to admit adoption of the system successfully employed at a western university would be somewhat exculcrating."

LET STUDIES SLIDE

Here's another page with a kick in it: "We had a tough season, won all our games, had polished off California by the largest score they ever were beaten and finished undisputed coast champions. A lot of us had let our studies slide during the season and figured to make up the work during December. And here we were scheduled to play New Year's day. That meant we worked out every day and took all the time from our books, in the lobby. The worse the time, and had to give up our Christmas vacation."

HARDSHIPS

"When the rain started and it got cold we asked if we could have clean inner shirts and sweat shirts every day. It was awful putting on those shirts we'd used the day before, which were clammy and cold with yesterday's sweat. They turned us down; said it ran the laundry bill too high and besides they didn't have that many shirts. The worse the gang got, the worse Sam got and vice versa."

"We went to Pasadena a week before the game and a fine mess of trips began brewing. They told us we had to look good as the hotel was high class. "No corodurus, no dirty sweaters worn in the lobby. The boys sent the sweaters to be cleaned and their suits to be pressed. And the roar that went up when we found out we were supposed to pay for the cleaning and pressing ourselves! "Finally they compromised by paying for one suit to be pressed but not cleaned for each man. Fifty cents. And they were making $75.00 while we gave up our jobs and vacations."

A college education is a great thing for a young man, at that. WHAT A MAN! Walter Manelkis, a candidate for tackle on A. A. Stagg's Maroon Mob from the Midway, told the coach his arm hurt. Stagg advised him to go and have an x-ray. He did. The x-ray showed the arm to be broken, but they couldn't find Manelkis to tell him about it. He was roaming around the city for 10 days before they corralled him and set the arm. I wonder what course Walter is taking at the university.

JUST PLAYS, THAT'S ALL Dear old Yale has been using some plays in practice this year that look very much like Notre Dame style. But, of course, Yale is not adopting Notre Dame style. You see, it happens that Yale is the cradle of American football, and to admit adoption of the system successfully employed at a western university would be somewhat exculcrating."

ORIGIN OF SYSTEMS There has been some quibbling about the origin of the Notre Dame style. Commentators here and there insist that it is the system taught at Dartmouth years ago by Major Frank Cavanaugh, and bundled up and brought to Notre Dame by Jack Marks before Rockne ever came to Notre Dame. Be that as it may, it still seems to me that the Notre Dame system is the Rockne system, and without Rockne, you can call it anything you prefer.

THAT'S GOING, BOYS Disturbing tidings are borne from Paris. Jules Ladoumeque ran six furlongs (three quarters of a mile) in 3 minutes 3.5 seconds. Then Lettinen, the Finn, ran 427 meters in 14 minutes 26 seconds. Ladoumeque broke a world record in 1895 by a world record American named Connett. Lettinen broke Nurm's world record by five seconds. Both of these gentlemen will be here for the Olympics in 1932.

HOW ABOUT FOXX? Jimmy Foxx has been suffering a slump this season. For a long time he hit under .300. Then he twisted his ankle and had to leave the lineup. Mr. Mack says that whenever a player who has been doing poorly goes out of the lineup, he usually comes back good, and if he has been playing a bang-up game when forced to the bench, he will be very rotten when he returns. Is that bad news for the Cardinals?

'Dutch' Leonard's Wife Asks Divorce FRESNO, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Hubert B. ("Dutch") Leonard, former Detroit Tiger and Boston Red Sox left-handed pitcher, today was defendant in a suit for divorce from his wife, Sybil Hitt Leonard. She once was a vaudeville headliner under the name of Muriel Worth.

JOHN WARD TO BRING ELEVEN TO POLY FIELD

Woodrow Wilson high school of Long Beach, as well as Garden Grove, will come here tomorrow for a scrimmage with Santa Ana high school. Coach Oliver announced late today, Saint regulars will work out against Wilson, with the Santa Ana seconds meeting Garden Grove.

Tuning up for their important pre-league engagement at Orange Friday afternoon, Santa Ana high school's football squad will be pushed through its most vigorous scrimmage of the week at Poly field tomorrow afternoon. Coach "Tex" Oliver's disciples will work out against Garden Grove, and the practice set to will be open to local grid fans.

John Ward, one time Saint gridder, later a tackle at the University of Southern California and still later a high class linebacker for the Minneapolis Yellowjackets professional, is coaching the Garden Grove pigskin splinters this season.

What the husky "Ward has in the way of material is not known but the Chilipeppers may usually be counted on for an interesting performance, and their efforts against Oliver's Saints will be watched with keen interest all about the Orange league.

Santa Ana divided its squad today, the first and second strings remaining here to scrimmage a remaining here to scrimmage a team of Saint gridder and the third team traveling to Tustin to drill against Bill Cole's Farmer reserves.

Several new prospects put in appearances at Andrews gym yesterday and one of them, Charles Gillingham, a transfer from a Montana school may be a load of sunshine to a Santa Ana backfield that has given Oliver little but grief thus far in the fall.

It is no state secret that the Saints are missing dreadfully the services of their old three-year ace, Al Rebohn and Harold Pangley, and that Oliver has yet to make up his mind about a single position. Gillingham comes with some experience, and seemed to warm up yesterday. He is a well set up player of about 155 pounds. Ed Sparks, Herb Courtman, William Baer and "Goldie" Hesse, men who have reported somewhat irregularly, have impressed Oliver with their earnestness this week. They are good prospects, all of them sizeable fellows.

Others who are being watched carefully, with every prospect of rapid advancement, are Leroy Desmet, Clyde Mosser, Wayne Grother and Don Martin, guard; and Tony Ruiz and Jack Wright, backs; Mosser, a spring practice discovery, has designs on the right guard position held by Andy Utick. Mosser is faster than Utick.

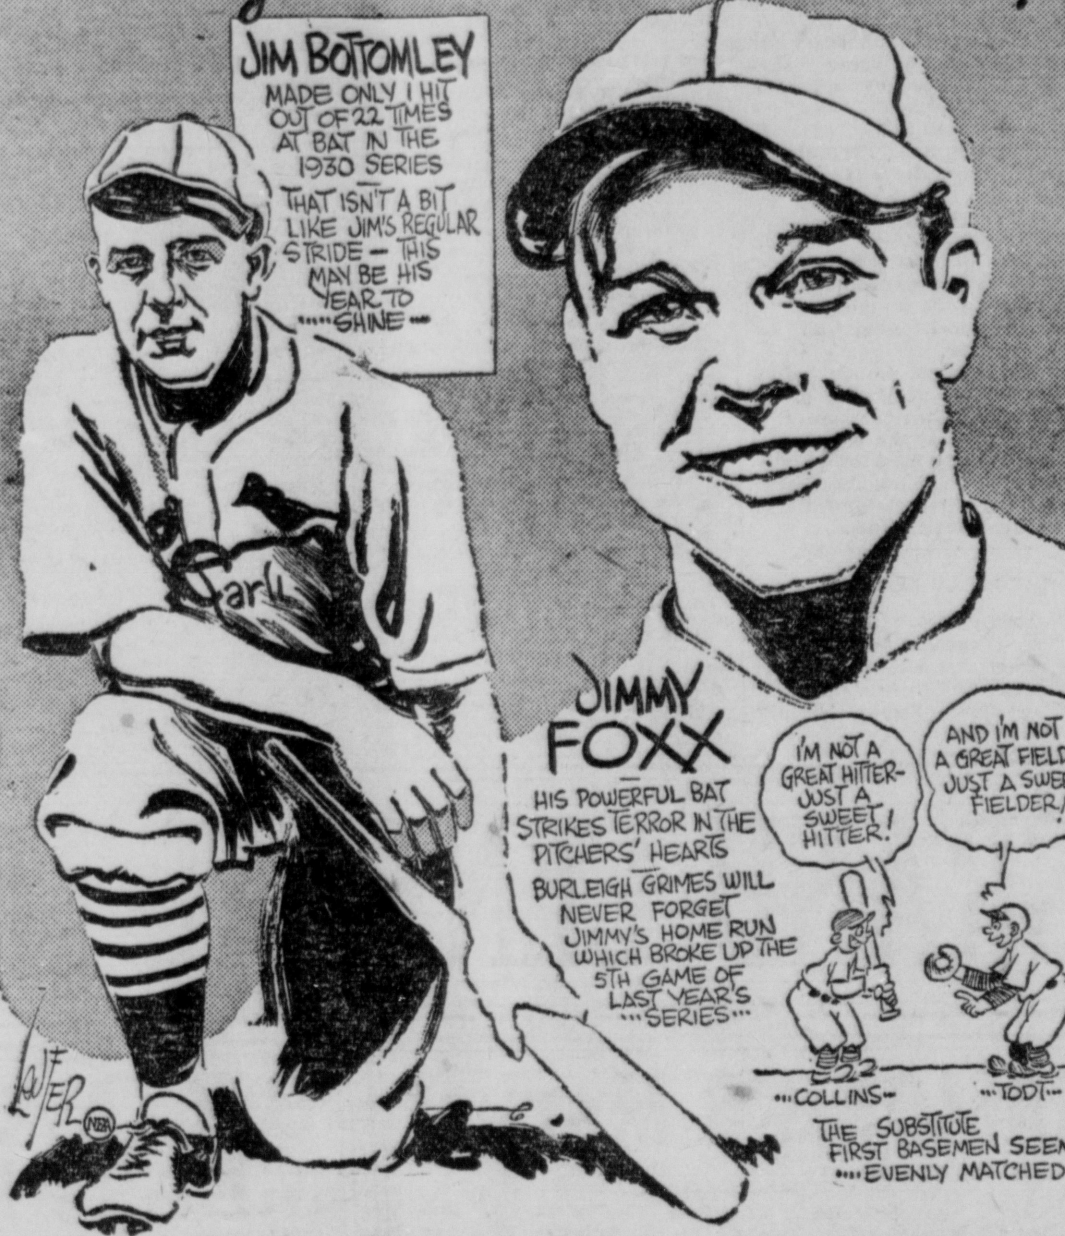

Clarence Patmore, Duane Larabee and Joe Cantu all joined the squad yesterday. They have been held back by illness. Larabee and Cantu are speedy backs who may make the first string grade. Enrolling here from Racine, Wis., where he was said to be an all-state back while playing for Racine high school, Christensen, fast and tall, impressed Cook considerably. Christensen does a good job at taking out an end and shows up better on defense than offense. His main offensive fault seems to be that he ducks his head on a plunge through the line. This, however, can be remedied very easily, and, after obtaining a better knowledge of the signals, Christensen will be used plenty.

Smith, Anderson MEET AT OLYMPIC LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Harry Smith, New York Negro, ranked as the leading middleweight of the country by the National Boxing association, will defend his rating against "Kentucky Joe" Anderson in a 10-round bout here tonight. They meet at 160 pounds. Although the Jamaica Negro is conceded the edge in the bout, Anderson has lost only one fight to a colored lad in his long career. That was to Tiger Flowers. It is Anderson's first appearance here in 14 months.

Franklin Nicky managed the Hill-Carden squad, the Clothiers winning the title after a thrilling five-game series with the Public Playgrounds.

Rating World Series Stars!

TRYING TO choose between Jim Bottomley and Jimmy Foxx is a task for a crystal gazer. On a season's play, no one could rate one over the other without making himself a lot of enemies. But for a short series, past performance swings the balance in favor of Foxx. The Cardinal pitchers are not likely to forget the power of Jimmy's bat, and because of his habit of breaking up well-pitched games with disconcerting home runs, Foxx is given the preference over Bottomley in the pre-series picking. The Cards and A's rate about evenly on first base substitutes. Jim Collins is in his first year and hasn't the experience of his Athletics rival, Phil Todd, who is a finished fielder but not very potent on the attack. The Athletics enjoy a slight edge at first base solely because of Foxx's long-distance hitting.

THREE PLAYERS JOIN DONS IN GRID PRACTICE

Somewhat dissatisfied with the showing made by his Don gridmen against Chaffey last week, Coach Bill Cook was making no promises today as to how Santa Ana junior college will act against the University of Southern California freshmen at the Los Angeles coliseum Saturday. Cook's pessimism vanished in part yesterday, however, when Toby Greenow, end; Jim Danerl, halfback, and Walter ("Red") Christensen, halfback, reported for practice. A regular last year, Greenow will add considerable strength to Santa Ana's aerial attack. Danerl was an all-around athlete at Santa Ana high school, playing end on Coach "Tex" Oliver's 1930 varsity. It has been his desire to play in the backfield for many seasons and he signed and practiced as a halfback Monday.

Enrolling here from Racine, Wis., where he was said to be an all-state back while playing for Racine high school, Christensen, fast and tall, impressed Cook considerably. Christensen does a good job at taking out an end and shows up better on defense than offense. His main offensive fault seems to be that he ducks his head on a plunge through the line. This, however, can be remedied very easily, and, after obtaining a better knowledge of the signals, Christensen will be used plenty.

Captain Mike Santa Cruz, tackle, and Ervin Watkins, halfback, whom Coach Cook believes were the outstanding players at Ontario Saturday, unquestionably will be in the starting lineup against the Trojans. The work of Watkins at right half was the outstanding feature of the Chaffey game. Captain Santa Cruz held his position well, considering the fact that Bert Heller's Panthers had been out for practice longer than the Don. Harry Clayton, who teams with Santa Cruz, had difficulty at left tackle and was removed in favor of Horace Ritter. Les Fulsom, Don Smith, Ray Buxton and Jimmie Hall made a representative showing at Ontario and will receive their share of action at the coliseum.

Al Rebohn, Santa Ana high school's triple-threat all-conference preparatory league quarterback for three years, will lead the attack for

Three School Boys In Sea Diving Feat

Climaxing experiments conducted over a period of two years, Vernon Brock, Ralph Carnahan and William Rasmussen, all Santa Ana high school students, successfully took pictures and secured fish at a depth of 30 feet at Balboa Sunday in homemade deep sea diving equipment of their own make. The boys entered the ocean from the jetty. Their feats witnessed by a large crowd of bathers. They have been experimenting with diving paraphernalia since 1929 and have made several trials but Sunday's effort were their most successful. Brock lives at 608 Grand avenue, Carnahan at 715 West Pine street, and Rasmussen at 609 South Parton street.

SEIXAS, TROY END, RULED INELIGIBLE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The faculty ax had descended on the University of Southern California football squad today, severing from the roster for the present year the person of John Seixas (pronounced Sayshus), promising sophomore end.

Seixas, a transfer from Pasadena junior college, was found by Prof. Hugh Willett, faculty member of the athletic committee, to lack 15 units of study necessary for a Pacific Coast conference. Seixas can complete with the Spartans this year, however, and still have three years of competition ahead of him. Seixas had been lifted from the Goofs to the varsity squad to understudy Garrett Arbelbide.

The U. S. C. Frosh. During practice at S. C. Rebohn has shown that he is in his old condition, which means that he will be a mighty hard man to stop. Riverside junior college has been wiped off Santa Ana's slate of tentative games and the bye date, October 3, will be filled here by either San Bernardino or Pomona junior colleges.

STARS TO PLAY 3-GAME SERIES AT PORTERVILLE

Arrangements for a three-game series at Porterville between Santa Ana's Stars and Porterville were completed today by Santa Ana club officials. The games will be played Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, October 1, 2 and 3. Porterville, conqueror of Bakersfield, holds the 1931 championship of Northern California. The Northerners, about whom virtually nothing is known locally, attempted to arrange a series with Colton after the Reds clinched the Southern California championship by winning from Santa Ana here last night but the American league club turned down the bid. A second choice, Santa Ana accepted. Porterville agreed to pay all the expenses of the local club during their stay there.

The players will leave Santa Ana the morning of October 1, returning home Sunday October 4. Porterville is approximately 220 miles from here.

VINES IS THRICE WINNER ON COURTS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—After an inauspicious start in which he lost two doubles matches, Ellsworth Vines, national singles champion, had three victories to show today in the Pacific Southwest tennis championships. The University of Southern California sophomore downed Jack Beckham in love sets to gain the second round of men's singles play; he teamed with Keith Gledhill to defeat Hughes and Matthews, 6-1, 6-1, in men's doubles play, and then, with Helen Marlow, progressed a round in the mixed doubles, 6-4, 6-4, with a victory over Les Stoen and Carolyn Babcock. Vines took just 15 minutes to dispose of Beckham.

REDS CAPTURE TITLE TILT IN LATE INNINGS; CROWD MENACES UMPIRE WAGNER

Santa Ana's night baseball fraternity awoke today with regrets, a headache and a dark brown taste—unsavory aftermaths of a 4-0 defeat by Colton here last night that left the Stars destitute of their Southern California championship. The end came after one of the most dramatic struggles of the season, an anybody's ball game, one which terminated virtually in a free-for-all riot with passionate, partisan fans menacing the safety of Umpire Leo Wagner, an American Night league official from Riverside, after Wagner had been attacked by Leavitt Daley, Santa Ana's second baseman.

After ruling against Santa Ana in a complicated base-running mix-up during one of Colton's winning rallies, Umpire Wagner expelled Daley from the contest in the ninth inning for Daley's asserted use of "threatening language." The instant the last out was consummated, Daley, along with scores of incensed fans, rushed Wagner and surrounded him at second base as he started to walk from the field.

Daley Slugs Umpire The hot-headed Daley rocked the umpire with a stiff right to the jaw, while others jostled and jeered him before players and police, forming a cordon, chaperoned Wagner safely to the confines of Colton's dugout. Half an hour later, with the crowd then more curious than savage, Wagner was escorted from the park by police. Colton won by breaking up a marvelous pitcher's battle between Joe Cornelius and Venn Botts in the eighth and ninth innings. The Reds' runs were earned, one in the eighth and three more in the ninth, so Wagner's weird decision actually had no effect on the outcome of the seventh and deciding tussle of the southern California titular series.

George Lackaye, Santa Ana's manager, appealed Wagner's decision and finished the affair under protest, but announced today, after a conference with other club officials, that in the interest of good sportsmanship he would not carry the argument to the Southern California Night Ball association's highest tribunal, C. C. ("Gavvy") Cravath, one-time major league home-run king. Stars Will Not Protest That gives Colton the flag without further ado, officially terminates Santa Ana's season. There will be no protest. It was the consensus of unbiased observers that Colton outplayed the Stars throughout the series and deserved the championship. Wagner's decision that caused all the shooting came at a critical time in the eighth inning, immediately after Colton made the first run of the ball game. For seven long frames, Cornelius, ably supported, handcuffed the Reds with a solitary single, a questionable basehit at that. Colton's first hitter in the eighth was Chet Stock, stumpy, snailing high, bouncing ball to shortstop, outturning "Memph' Hill's throw by a stride. Bowers, later to become one of the Colton's heroes, tried to sacrifice and got a hit when his bunt took a bad hop over Third Baseman Darren Scott. Then Came the Deluge Botts, also attempting to sacrifice, popped to Hill. Hank Hanagan, poison to Cornelius all through the series, rifled a single to right. Outfielder "Rosy" Merrill prepared to try for a shoe-string catch, thought better of it, played the ball safe for a single. Stock, on his toes, scored all the way from second. Merrill made no play for Stock, but hurriedly relayed the ball to Daley at second base, where Bowers, believing Merrill was going to make the catch, had remained motionless. Bateman Hanagan tore past first base, touched second, started for third. Then, to his surprise, he realized he was abreast of the bewildered Bowers, who didn't know what to do. Daley, coming in with the ball from deep second, where he had gone for Merrill's throw, spotted the two Colton runners together, dashed for them. Hanagan headed back for first base, obviously without retracting his steps and touching second base, as required by baseball rules. Daley tried to tag him anyway, but Hanagan eluded him. Santa Anans said, by running out of the baselines, again contrary to baseball regulations.

Bowers nearly broke for third and beat Daley's belated toss there to Scott. Lackaye and all the other Stars argued violently that both runners were automatically out, Bowers because Hanagan passed him and Colton outfielders spent a busy evening. They gobbled ten fly balls. Santa Ana flyhawks captured six. Left fielders did most of the work, Gilbert having six putouts. Bell five. Bell made a dandy catch on Shad-daw's long drive to the bank in the fourth but Merrill evened it with a diving stab of Strin's Texas leaguer in the same inning. For seven innings it looked like history might repeat itself. Last year Santa Ana and Colton played a seven-game series with the Stars winning the flag in the wind-up, 1-0, making their winning tally in the last of the ninth. Some thought Cornelius had a no-hit game until the eighth but all the scores gave Hanagan a single in the third frame. The ball was right at Daley but it was too hot to handle, in the opinion of pressmen. Rival players "shot the works" at each other during the series but after the game shook hands and called it quits for another year. "Big Bill" Cole, the Stars' firebrand, who always draws his share of attention from enemy stands because of his commanding figure, fight and color, is quite popular with Colton followers. Stock and Stock with whom the huge Cole had run-ins during the series, were fraternizing like pals after it was all over.

Joe Cornelius pitched splendid ball for the Stars this season, taking all things into consideration. He was (Continued on Page 16)

Woman's Club Opens Season With Large Attendance

PROGRAM FOR YEAR TOLD BY MRS. WETTLIN

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Stressing the note of informal friendliness which is to be so important a part of the club year, the Orange Woman's club met yesterday at the Woman's clubhouse with a large initial attendance. Mrs. David G. Wettlin, installed as president at the last meeting of the club year, presided, and guests and members were greeted by a group of hostesses including Mrs. V. A. Wood, Mrs. N. T. Edwards, Mrs. R. W. Miller, Mrs. William Thompson and Mrs. J. F. Dierker.

Mrs. Wettlin wore a smart tailored suit in wood brown with a hat in a matching shade. Mrs. Wood was in black satin crepe with cream lace. Mrs. Edwards in a sports frock of cream flat crepe. Mrs. Miller in flowered chiffon. Mrs. Thompson in black silk with a white net collar, and Mrs. Dierker in dark blue georgette.

Mrs. Wettlin gave a brief talk at the opening of the meeting following group singing under the direction of Mrs. Paul Muench with Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake at the piano. The meditation was read by Mrs. Robert Burns McAulay.

Mrs. Wettlin declared that each member of the club has an individual responsibility in making the organization of help to the community. Sociability is to be stressed during the coming year and the first step toward this means will be a series of vanishing luncheons which opened last week when Mrs. Wettlin and Mrs. Irving Goldfader entertained members of the executive board and chairman of committees. Each of the sixteen persons entertained at that luncheon is to be hostess in the near future at a luncheon when eight guests will be entertained, the eight guests will in turn be hostesses to groups of four, the four to two, and the two to one, completing the chain. Groups are to be chosen from among club members who are not intimately acquainted in order that all members of the club may come to know each other better.

Some of the luncheons are to be followed by bridge and some by Kensingtons. Mrs. Donald Smiley explained the plan to be followed in giving the luncheons. The president announced that this year a new plan would be followed in raising money for the club. Formerly each section was asked to raise the sum of $100 but this year Mrs. Wettlin has asked that each section obtain 10 new members for the club. The music section is to have charge of the group singing. Mrs. Christine Lambert, leader, who will be in charge of this portion of the club program, is in the east and was not present.

Each section is to be responsible for one program of the year, it was announced, and in this way a varied series of events is expected to result and at the same time programs representative of the tastes of the section members will be presented.

Lam, North Cambridge street, on a speeding charge; one of $2 to Ollie Dearborn, who was cited to appear on an overtime parking charge. E. O. Smith of Wilmington, was placed under a $100 bond when he appeared on a charge of disturbing the peace. Smith was arrested on the request of his former wife, Mrs. Vera Powers. They quarreled, it was said, over their 7-year-old son, Leo.

'TROUBLE' IS DISCUSSED AT BROWN REVIVAL

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—"The Man Who Borrows Trouble" was the subject of the sermon last evening by John Brown at the tabernacle on North Glassell and Walnut streets. The choir opened the service with a half hour of gospel singing, led by Elden Farrar. The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the Christian church, offered prayer.

"Diseases, Real and Imaginary" will be the subject of a series of talks next week by John Brown. Prayer services will be held in the inquiry this evening at 7 o'clock led by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck of the Christian church. Anaheim delegations will be present to-night.

Wednesday, delegations from the Methodist and Presbyterian and El Modena churches will be seated in sections. Thursday, delegations from Fullerton and Christian churches will be present. Friday, delegations from Garden Grove, Midway City and Westminster will attend in a body. John Brown will address the high school Wednesday at 1:20 p. m. in the assembly hall of the high school. R. A. Sawyer announced a meeting for September 29 for the purpose of forming an evangelistic association of laymen.

"I Am Serving the Lord in My Weak Way" was a solo by Elden Farrar. "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest" was a portion of the scripture lesson read by John Brown last evening.

The evangelist said in part: "There is only one cure for the skepticism of this age and that is the transforming power of God. Christianity is not a system. It is a person. Other religions are systems. Systems operate but Christ is the center of Christianity. There are too many pupils today without Christ. 'Come' is the heart of the gospel, other religions say 'go, do.' 'Come' is found 600 times between Genesis and Revelation. Christianity stands before the word with the invitation 'come' not 'go.' Vision to yourself Jesus Christ standing before the multitude saying, 'Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden.' Jesus Christ is standing today facing the tragedy of today. Can Jesus Christ do that, can he give us rest?"

OFFICIALS ASSERT BOND ISSUE WILL NOT AFFECT CITY RIGHTS; GIVE FACTS

The Metropolitan water district bond issue to be voted on next Tuesday will not interfere in any way with the taxing or bonding power of the member cities, it was disclosed by district officials in a recent statement to the public. It is purely a district issue, covering the entire 13 member cities, and has no relationship with the individual municipal governments.

Santa Ana's proportion of the bond issue, which is approximately one-one hundred seventeenth of the total, will therefore not detract in any way from the legal bonding limit of the municipality. The public may have no fear that these bonds will prevent the voting of any future bond issue for needed local improvements when, and if, needed, the statement said.

Neither will the cities lose their taxing power, as has been charged by opponents of the plan.

Other Aqueduct Facts

Other interesting facts about the great Colorado river aqueduct made public by the Santa Ana Citizens committee, included the following:

The engineering board of review which made the final recommendations for the Parker route of the aqueduct included Thaddeus Meriman, chief engineer of the New York City board of water supply; A. J. Wiley, consulting engineer for the U. S. government on the Hoover dam; and Richard R. Lyman, consulting engineer of Salt Lake City.

The average rainfall of Southern California is only 15.01 inches annually, insufficient, even if all of it were saved, for the present and future population. This must be augmented by the Colorado river water.

The Parker diversion dam, to be built by the district, will raise the water level 72 feet, and store 716,600 acre feet of water.

There will be a total of 93 steel and concrete siphons on the aqueduct, and five pumping stations.

Reasons for Parker Route

The Parker route was selected from all those considered, because of six main points, as follows: (1) most economical construction costs; (2) only route which offered intermediate storage reservoir sites; (3) it is located entirely in California; (4) offers lowest net operating and maintenance costs; (5) safest construction; (6) Parker dam provides a second de-silting station for the water.

STATE TAXABLE WEALTH DROPS FIRST TIME

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22. — For the first time in history California's taxable wealth showed a decrease during the current year, according to a statement today by H. G. Cattell, of Pasadena, member of the state board of equalization for the fourth district.

Blame for the situation was placed on the business depression by Cattell, who said that the value of all property in the state was $9,397,909,983 this year, compared with $10,145,131,534 in 1930, a loss of 7.247 per cent.

Real property suffered the smallest drop of any individual type of property during the past year, according to Cattell, the percentage of loss being but one-half of one per cent. On the other hand, stocks and bonds and other forms of credit lost more than 24 per cent of their value in 1931 over 1930.

"This situation is not favorable to real property from a tax standpoint," Cattell declared.

"It means that real property had to make up the loss sustained by other forms of taxable wealth, inasmuch as cost of government increased during the year and this cost must be met from some source of revenue. Value of real property practically stood still, while on all sides other forms of taxable property were showing a heavy decrease in value."

"It is simply another example of the unprotected position of real estate. In times of prosperity or depression such property is assessed at almost a constant value and bears the burden when other taxable wealth cannot produce its share of cost of government."

This applies only to city and county taxation as state revenues are obtained exclusively from sources other than real and personal property, the latter being reserved to local subdivisions for their revenue.

NEW GOITER CURE

YOUNGSTOWN, O. — Deputy Sheriff's Clark and James picked up Victor Haney and Paul Belleville with a cation of liquor in their car. Belleville told the deputies that a doctor had prescribed corn liquor for his inward goiter, which accounted for the liquor in the car. The alibi, however, wasn't convincing enough and both men now face a charge of possession and transportation of liquor.

FARMERS TO HOLD ANNUAL CELEBRATION

The fourteenth anniversary of the Orange county Farm Bureau will be observed by the officers and members of the organization at their annual picnic and Muster Day to be held Friday, September 25, at Irvine park. Invitations are being sent to the early officers of the Farm Bureau to be in attendance. Anniversary ceremonies will be observed during the basket dinner hour at 3 o'clock, when all farm centers and members of the Farm Bureau will join in a picnic supper near the auditorium.

The afternoon session will start at 3 o'clock with baseball, horseshoe pitching and rolling-pin contests between farm centers. The 4-H agricultural clubs of the county are arranging interesting stunts and demonstrations throughout the afternoon and evening.

Prominent speakers from the state Farm Bureau Federation and the University of California have been secured for brief addresses following the dinner. This will be one of the most important and largest gatherings of the Farm Bureau this fall, according to J. W. Crill, president.

A. F. Schroeder, general chairman of the picnic program, reports that the schedule of events will justify a large attendance from all parts of the county.

WALNUT HOUSE TO BEGIN OPERATIONS

The Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association packing house was preparing today for launching the 1931 packing season possibly tomorrow. Because nuts have been rather slow in coming in a definite date for beginning operations has been difficult to make. The packing house office reports.

A number of growers are reported to have been drying walnuts on trays rather than making use of dehydrators. This method does not place the nuts in readiness for the packing house so soon as the dehydrator method and consequently nuts have been slower in arriving at the house.

PREFER THE "COOLER"
PITTSBURGH.—Helen Killian and Mildred Bender were arrested on one of the recent hot days for shoplifting. Taken before Detective Inspector Boyd, they were met with the question: "How would you like to think it over in a cell?" "Fine," spoke up Mildred. "It's awful hot outside and cells ought to be nice and cool."

School Board Putting In Long Hours

When the voters of Santa Ana elected the present board of education they didn't realize what hard workers they were getting. The school officials have established what is believed to be a new record for long hours, setting a mark for other public bodies to aim at if they want to be in the running.

The board's last meeting covered parts of two days, beginning yesterday and ending today. It was 7:30 p. m. yesterday when the meeting was called to order and 12:05 a. m. today when it adjourned.

REGISTRAR FOR CONTRACTORS HERE WEEKLY

Building contractors of Santa Ana and Orange county may register under the state law, with G. H. Morrison, deputy registrar of contractors for Orange county, at the Builders' exchange in Santa Ana each Monday. It was announced today. Hours when Morrison is in the office are from 11 to 12 o'clock.

All contractors securing a building project in excess of $200 are required to obtain a license, whether for building, mechanical or other improvement, it is learned.

"The license law was passed at the instance of Builders' exchanges of southern California by the 1929 legislature," Morrison explained. "It has proved a great measure for the protection of the property owners from the irresponsible, fly-by-night contractors. Builders in southern California now find a measure of protection under this law they had not heretofore experienced."

"Those contemplating building will do well, in letting a contract, to first ascertain that the contractors they propose to do business with are working under a state license," he added.

"In the event of any irregularity, on the part of the contractor, the state registrar may then be called on to adjust any difficulties that may arise."

Contractors in Orange county are uniformly observing this law, Morrison stated.

TIGHTEN UP IN DRIVE ON DRUNK DRIVERS

When drunken drivers are taken into custody in Orange county in the future, the officers making the arrest, if they are members of the State Highway Patrol are to report the arrests immediately to the district attorney.

An order to this effect was received here today by Captain Henry Meehan, head of the Orange county squad.

According to word from Sacramento, where the order was issued by E. Raymond Cato, chief of the highway patrol, the order is intended to apply to cases involving injury or death where "the odor of alcoholic liquors is detected on the breath of either driver or if the officer has reason to believe the driver of either vehicle has been drinking."

In such cases, the officer is instructed to take the accused to a doctor at once for examination and to notify the district attorney.

This procedure, it was explained, will enable the district attorney to obtain first hand knowledge of the facts and will result in the speeding up of issuance of complaints.

Records of the patrol show the war conducted against the drunk driver has resulted thus far this year in the cancellation of licenses of 543 drivers. This is more than 44 per cent of the total cancelled for all offenses.

Many Will Again Go On Good Will Trip Into Mexico

According to estimates by Geo. A. Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Mexico good will excursion being sponsored this year by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, approximately 30 per cent of those who joined the excursion last year are expected to repeat this year. Tour dates have been set from November 24 to December 12 and to date there are more than 60 reservations already on file with Raymer.

A minimum of 125 passengers is required to charter the special all steel de luxe train, carrying its own dining, club, and observation sleeping cars. The train will be the "home" of the party for the entire 18 days of the tour. The itinerary has been outlined as extending down the west coast to Mexico City, and will return the central route by way of El Paso.

With five additional days added to the time of the excursion this year provisions have been made for a full week of sight-seeing in and around Mexico City. Side trips will include the pyramids, the floating gardens, and Cuernavaca. Two days will be spent in beautiful Guadalajara, the second largest city in Mexico.

In addition to Raymer other members of the good-will excursion committee who are taking reservations, are secretaries of the respective chambers of commerce as follows:

Harry May, secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, fullerton; V. D. Johnson, county publicity director, Orange; George W. Reid, Anaheim; George C. Macleod, Newport Beach; S. L. Pancoast, San Juan Capistrano; and Thomas E. Pickert, Placentia. E. B. Sharples, Santa Ana, will have charge of the train again this year.

TELLS NEED OF CLEARER IDEALS OF RESPONSIBILITY AND CONCERN FOR OTHERS

Asserting that Americans of today are as "panic-stricken children in the presence of forces and powers which they find as difficult to control as Aladdin did the Jinn which he released from the lamp," J. William Rushton of Berkeley, educator and lecturer of more than 30 years' experience, yesterday pointed out to members of the Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club the necessity of self-control and of submerging personal interests for the welfare of society as a whole.

TELLS SOURCE OF FACTS IN AQUEDUCT ADS

"Santa Ana voters who have been reading the series of advertisements in the Register under the general heading, 'Aqueduct Facts' realize that they have been digesting a considerable amount of information presented to them in a comprehensive and intelligent manner. Perhaps the voter also wishes to know the source of information, the authorship and the method of handling. The Citizens committee publicity group is glad to make this clear." This was the statement made today by William J. Tway, chairman of the publicity committee.

"The Register's editorial of Friday, 'Metropolitan Water Facts,' has provoked a great deal of discussion," Tway said, "and the public doubtless would be glad to know what effort is being made by the local committee to see that information published by the Citizens committee is as near correct as it is humanly possible to make it."

Experts Develop Facts
"The actual preparation of the copy is being handled by Wayne Goble who was selected by the executive committee on the approval of the publicity committee," Tway continued. "The method and style of presentation are the results of Goble's effort. Necessarily all basic facts have been developed by the experts of the Metropolitan Water district. In each instance these have been checked by a board of review of other experts. In many cases they are supported by study and analysis by private citizens who have the technical interest and knowledge to indigine in such studies."

"In matters as to engineering costs and legal status affecting Santa Ana, they have been closely checked by the local engineering committee which consists of six Santa Ana civil engineers headed by City Engineer DeWitt Dudley, and by the local legal committee of three of which Horace Head is chairman. Any statement as to engineering and water rights is made only from a general setup which has been scrutinized and approved by a local committee."

Finley Checks Copy
"When the copy is prepared it is again closely checked as to fact by S. H. Finley, Santa Ana member of the Metropolitan Water board, who is the best informed man in Santa Ana on the subject."

"Finally it is reviewed by a representative of the publicity committee to verify whether or not conclusions drawn and suggestions made are in line with basic information and are a reasonable interpretation of the facts on the basis of comparison and sound judgment."

"After this process it would seem to me that Santa Anans can be reasonably sure that every effort is being made to give them real information," Tway concluded.

Important Subjects
Political and financial crises of the nations, the crime situation in the United States, where ten billions of dollars are spent annually in jurisprudence, penal institutions, police control and other agencies for the neutralization of crime, and many other matters of import were touched upon in the address, which gave the clubwomen such varied matters for further consideration.

In addition to the speaker the program offered a musical interval when Larry Bauer, formerly of Milwaukee, was presented. He has a rich and beautifully trained baritone voice, and with his host, Dr. Bates, at the piano, sang "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold."

Miss Lula Ott presided over the meeting in place of the president, Miss Alma Sweet, whose mother is ill. Mrs. Laura McNaught of the month's social committee, presented the guest artists, and also announced a dinner and program for next Monday night at Highway Tea Garden. Miss Louise Kaiser reminded the members of the rummage sale to be held on the last Saturday in October.

BUILDERS PASS RESOLUTION ON WATER BONDS

Colorado river water offers the only adequate source of water supply that is available to Southern California, it is pointed out in a resolution urging the necessity of voting the Metropolitan Water bonds of $220,000,000 September 29, which has been drafted by a committee of the Orange County Builders' exchange. The resolution was sent to the directors of the Metropolitan Water district.

The Builders' exchange, at the last monthly meeting in Laguna Beach, went on record endorsing the bonds unanimously and urging all members to use their influence in polling a heavy vote for the project.

Reason for Conditions
"Children," declared the speaker, "first meet life's problems through instinct, and then through force of habit, and only as they develop are they driven to use their intellects in settling such problems as arise. During the Victorian era (whose standards we are trying to live by today) it was through such instinct that leading nations and their peoples met their problems. That established the habits that have prevailed. But now, largely due to the changes wrought by the World War, we cannot meet the problems so, and the present chaotic state is the result."

There are new problems to face he explained, declaring that new ways and means must be evolved to meet them, and stressing the necessity for cultivating clearer ideals of good will and responsibility to others and a concern as to the welfare of others with a corresponding abolition of personal and national prejudices.

That students of ethics and idealism recognize that Protestant churches are failing to reach the people today as they did in an earlier era, the speaker spoke of the need of developing a greater appreciation of spiritual values and quoted Dean Inge of England in his saying that those things which once established our values, are actually injurious unless they lead to a richer spiritual life.

Important Subjects
Political and financial crises of the nations, the crime situation in the United States, where ten billions of dollars are spent annually in jurisprudence, penal institutions, police control and other agencies for the neutralization of crime, and many other matters of import were touched upon in the address, which gave the clubwomen such varied matters for further consideration.

Just Another Way to Beat Father Time

Apparently its a bother for someone to get to school on time, sheriff's officers learned yesterday.

Someone broke into the Centralia school house in the county and stole two clocks from the wall, it was reported.

NEW ADVISORY SYSTEM TRIED AT POLY HIGH

With the welfare of each individual student in mind, Principal D. K. Hammond, of the Santa Ana high school, plans to introduce a new advisory system for the first time this year. The object of the system will be to help students with special programs, college entrance requirements, vocations, and to introduce supplementary material not provided for in regular classes. Instruction in accident prevention, safety rules, and traffic problems will be a part of the program, according to officials.

The student body will soon be divided into small classes of 30 or 40 pupils each with a faculty advisor at the head of each group. It is the plan of the faculty advisors to have these groups meet once a month during regular assembly periods, and to have the seniors meet together and hear lectures on ethics, college work, and various vocational subjects.

A pamphlet on "How to Study" will be used as a text book by three classes, and after this has been completed each student will construct a schedule for himself denoting how much time may be spent on studies, recreation, sleep, and work during the day.

A student will have one advisor during the entire school year. In this way the teacher may become better acquainted with the boy or girl who is under his supervision, and therefore be better equipped to give the proper assistance, Principal Hammond said.

S. A. FAMILY RETURNS FROM WORLD TOUR

Few places of interest on the world's surface, unless it might be some in Africa, were omitted from the interesting tour completed by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Spurgeon and their son and daughter, Billy and Miss Sherill Spurgeon, with their return Saturday to their home at 1417 North Main street after an absence of many months.

Accompanying Mrs. Spurgeon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Abbott, of Pomona, the Santa Ana family sailed on one of the famous world cruises of the S. S. Belgenland, following a westerly course that circled the globe by way of Hawaiian Islands, Japan and China. After visiting Manila and other island points, the party continued to Siam and through the Straits settlements to Singapore, stopping at Java, Sumatra and Ceylon.

Egypt followed, and crossing the Red Sea to the Mediterranean, the Santa Anans disembarked at Gibraltar and followed their own line of travel through Spain and France to Paris. They visited the various battlefields returning by the famous "Western Front" after a tour of the chateau country in Normandy and Brittany. The various countries on the continent were visited in turn and in Vienna, Mr. Spurgeon attended the Rotary international convention. After touring Norway and Sweden they crossed to the British Isles landing at Newcastle and motoring down the coast to London, visiting Devonshire, Oxford, Stratford, and similar places of historical interest.

The homeward trip was made on the Pennsylvania through the canal, the party reaching Los Angeles harbor on Saturday which the travelers report was after a trip absolutely lacking in unpleasant happenings, since the pleasantest of weather and the smoothest of seas were encountered, even the Red Sea crossing being characterized by pleasantly cool weather.

Tea for Long Beach
Chapter

A special charm seemed to pervade the Norbert E. Lents home on Tustin avenue Sunday afternoon, when it was the place for the disposal of Sigma Theta sorority members for a formal tea commemorating Long Beach chapter members.

The loveliest of the autumn flowers were used throughout the rooms, while in the dining room where interest centered in the charm of the tea table, great clusters of pink roses suggested the days of mid-summer. An especially inviting spot was the patio with its greenery providing a cool retreat.

Mrs. Lents and Mrs. Belle Spangler joined the receiving line with Sigma Theta hostesses, the former wearing black chiffon with touches of deep coffee color lace, and the latter in black lace. Each wore a corsage cluster of tall-towered roses. Others in the receiving line were Miss Margaret Lents in rose chiffon; Miss Loretta Spangler in marine-blue lace; Miss Frances Vieira, in black lace; Miss Elma McBride, wearing black chiffon velvet; Miss Ruth Owens, in flowered chiffon and Miss Martha Wallingford in primrose chiffon. Each wore flowers to harmonize with her costume.

During the serving of the tea, Mrs. Lents and Mrs. Spangler presided at the silver urns.

Long Beach guests complimented so charmingly were the Misses Keener, McDonald, Pence, Dean, Lindsay, Mason, Skinner, Dunlap, Ladd, Smith, McKinney, McIntyre, Mrs. Beulah Kirby and Miss Evelyn Guenther of Los Angeles, and Miss June Grantley of Burlingame.

Ceremony in Riverside
Unites Couple from
This Community

Wedded Saturday afternoon September 19 in the First Christian church of Riverside, Mrs. Emma Williams of Santa Ana and Alphonse Thierly of Tustin, today are established in a home in this city. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Mr. Pritchard, pastor of the church, shortly after 12 o'clock noon.

The bride was dressed in a navy blue ensemble, with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Audrey Dohmer, maid of honor, wore a black and white frock with hat and other details of her costume in the same color combination. Edward Thierly attended his brother as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Thierly left for Moore Park near San Fernando to spend the week-end with Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William. Mr. Thierly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Thierly of Tustin and is a graduate of Tustin union high school. He is an employee of the Tustin Hills Citrus association.

Miscellaneous Shower
Planned By Sister
Of Honor Guest

A world of interest was taken by close friends of Miss Helen Lee (now Mrs. Carl Planchon) in the miscellaneous gift shower planned as a happy surprise by her sister, Mrs. Harold R. King, and held Saturday night in the King home at 1232 South Parton street.

After the surprise had been successfully accomplished, tables were placed for a round of hearts. Very appropriately, Miss Lee herself scored high and was presented with a decorated cookie jar. Consolation prize of a black glass powder box went to Miss Dolly Webster. Identical prizes were presented Miss Dorothy Arnold and Miss Alpha Wright, scoring high and low in a guessing contest.

That always-popular feature, a mock wedding, followed, after which the honoree had the pleasure of opening the array of packages heaped under a large pink and white umbrella.

Recalled to the card tables, the guests were served molded pink loaves centered with white wedding bells, and French pastries. Pink roses were used on the tables and about the rooms.

Invited guests included in addition to Miss Lee, the Misses Ames McKinstry, Miriam Samuelson, Martha Planchon, Dolly Webster, Alpha Wright, Maude Hatch, Hazel McCleary, Beanie Mozle, Alice Upson.

Nell Upson, Helen Enos, Dorothy Arnold, Maxine Lentzinger, Ruth Cathcart, Mildred Groomer, Lorene Croddy, Ruth Gardner, Katherine Spicer, Catherine Walbridge, Vesta Ross, all of Santa Ana; Miss Esther Guyton, Garden Grove; Mrs. Oleta Hulen, Orange; Mrs. Ruth Barton Los Angeles; Miss Madeline Wendt, Long Beach; and Mesdames Odessa Moore, P. Quiet Ceremony Unites
Young Couple in
Pastor's Home

A quiet wedding at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 19, served to unite in marriage Miss Mildred Sherwood, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Sherwood, this city, and Frank McDaniel, of San Pedro. The ceremony was read by the Rev. C. F. Martin, pastor of the Orange avenue Christian church, in his home, 1203 South Maple street.

Miss Sherwood made an attractive bride in her informal frock in blue and white, with harmonizing accessories. Her sister, Mrs. Madeline Ball, attended as matron of honor, wearing a black and white costume. James Sherwood was best man.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sherwood, 442 South Broadway. The refreshment course served included a wedding cake.

The new Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel went to San Pedro yesterday, where they will make their home. Mr. McDaniel is stationed on the "Tennessee."

Church Societies

An interesting program was broadcast over station "Y.M.P.C." Friday evening, when the women of the Young Married People's class of the First Baptist church entertained their husbands in the church banquet room.

The class colors of pink and green were employed to decorate the room, which resembled a radio studio. Included on the program were jokes by the "Pink and Green Comedy Team," Mrs. V. L. Sands and Mrs. William J. Hemmen; the "Women's Cooking Hour" by Mrs. Leslie M. Pearson; vocal solo by Mrs. Harry Harlow, accompanying herself on a kitchen utensil; the Kitchen band, consisting of a number of women producing a mirth-provoking music on kitchen ware. The Rev. Harry Evan Owings played several piano solos and cello numbers were contributed by W. G. Axworthy, with Miss Mildred Marchant accompanying him at the piano.

Planchon-Lee Wedding
Revealed As Event
Of Recent Date

Completely surprising their Santa Ana friends was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Helen Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee of Long Beach, to Carl Planchon, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Planchon, West Edinger road, Santa Ana. The plighting of troth took place at high noon, Sunday, September 20, in the First Christian church in Long Beach, with the Reverend Mr. Taubman reading the marriage vows. Guests were confined only to members of the immediate family circle.

The bride, a striking brunette, was effectively gowned in a silk crepe ensemble of Nile green, combined with tan accessories. She wore a large picture hat and a string of crystals, the gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Harold R. King, who wore a blue silk ensemble with accessories and a close fitting hat also of blue. Harold King acted as best man.

Following a wedding dinner in Long Beach, the group returned to this city to the pretty apartment of the young couple at Palm courts, 112 1/2 McPadden street, where the bride cut and served a three-tiered wedding cake, which was surrounded by a miniature bride and groom, standing under a tiny archway.

The new Mrs. Planchon graduated from Orange Union high school and for a year attended Santa Ana junior college, where she was active in all sports, and a member of Las Meninas, holding at one time, the office of president. She is now employed with the Santa Ana telephone company.

Mr. Planchon is a graduate of Santa Ana high school, and also attended Santa Ana junior college for a year. He is now employed with the Goodrich Silvertown corporation. The honeymoon of the young couple, will be deferred until a later date.

C. Planchon, the Misses Martha, Virginia, and Norma Planchon, and Richard Planchon; Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Walker and daughters, the Misses Maybelle and Violet Walker, and Mrs. C. C. Kindness to Ears

It was a great relief when my next-door neighbor took Sally and John, her two children, down to the grandparents' ranch for the summer, for the immediate neighborhood was freed from the frequent, high-pitched call of "Sa-AH-ly, Jaw-AHN, come home right away."

All who had ears, heard, except Sally and John—they heard only when it pleased them. The morning after they arrived home I missed something, then it struck me that we were minus those ear-splitting calls, and that the children were coming, and coming promptly, to the call of a soft little whistle—one call for John, two for Sally. How the system was put into effect I have still to learn, but it is sufficiently effective for other mothers to try it. I suppose the habit of obedience to the automatic call is similar to that which makes us obey traffic lights without question.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Rice With Cheese
1 cup uncooked rice

a starch and a protein, or a meat-and-potato substitute, so when you serve this dish, plan to do it as a substitute for these familiar foods. Serve with this two cooked vegetables, one of which must be a leafy green one, the other a more substantial root vegetable. I suggest Lady cabbage and hot pickled beets.

In case you are not familiar with Lady cabbage, it is ordinary boiled cabbage done this way: Shave up a head of cabbage, drop into a kettle of boiling salted water and cook at a hard boil for 10 minutes. Drain and dress with butter, salt and pepper. Unless the heavy rib part is used, cabbage will cook perfectly in this time and be digested by most everyone.

First step is to have three quarts of water, boiling hard. Have the rice washed and well drained, add it a little at a time, until all is in, then boil about 30 minutes.

Rice is cooked when a grain, picked up between finger and thumb, will mash under light pressure. Drain the rice and rinse under hot water. Pack the drained rice into a bowl and set it in the oven until ready to serve. In the meantime—

Melt the butter, blend with it the flour, dry mustard, cayenne, salt and pepper. Add the cold milk and stir until a smooth sauce results. Put this sauce into a double boiler, add the grated cheese and stir gently while it melts. Do not have the water boiling, for after the cheese is added cooking heat is apt to curdle the sauce. Just before serving add whatever lemon juice you wish and whip the sauce well to mix.

Carefully unmold the bowl of rice (better butter the bowl) on a platter and pour the cheese sauce over and around it.

Four people will find enough in this rice-cheese dish. The calories total just 1500, with energizing starches and tissue-building proteins, running neck 'n' neck.

A DRAMA OF FIGHTING LOVE

"THE VIKING"

This is the authentic picture that cost the lives of twenty-six men, by an explosion.

How Much Blame Must Poor Lighting Bear For His Handicap

He's DOING MUCH BETTER in school, now that his eyes have been attended to. But what a pity that it had to be.

Little eyes, straining over strange, puzzling lessons, need every help that we can give them. And let's give that help, with proper lighting, before it is too late. Eyesight once impaired may never be fully restored. We don't want our boy or girl handicapped all life through.

If you are in doubt about proper light for your reading table, for the children's study desk, and their play-room; if you find kitchen work becoming more difficult, now as the days grow shorter, call in an Edison lighting engineer and get his expert opinion. It will cost you nothing. It may save you much, in greater cheer and comfort, in prettier rooms, and in insurance against vain and endless regret.

CHECK SUICIDE THEORY WITH 2ND AUTOPSY

A more thorough investigation into the death of Charles G. Griffing, 32, well-known Santa Ana bank employee, whose body was found in his apartment at 925 Lacy street yesterday morning, was launched today by the Santa Ana police department, following an announcement that an autopsy, performed on the body at 8 a. m. today showed that there was no defects in the vital organs which would produce death.

The police department has called in officers of the district attorney's office and a more thorough autopsy is to be performed this afternoon, at which time contents of the stomach are to be analyzed, the investigator working on the theory that poison may have caused death.

The report of the autopsy surgeon, made today, that Griffing's heart was not impaired, led police to believe in a possible suicide theory, they reported.

Griffing was seen alive and apparently in good spirits in his apartment at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, by his room-mate, Jack Patterson, employee of the Santa Ana Mattress company. Patterson left for work, leaving Griffing alone. When Griffing did not appear at the Security First National bank, where he was a teller, an investigation was made resulting in the finding of the body little more than an hour later.

There were no indications of a struggle, and police stated that they found no container nearby to indicate that he had taken his own life.

At the same time, intimate friends knew of no reason why the young banker would want to commit suicide, it was reported, and the bank, through Frank J. Wass, local manager, declared that his accounts there were absolutely straight. Wass declared that auditors had given Griffing a clean bill in checking his accounts.

Police were first of the opinion that death was due to heart trouble, but with the report of the autopsy surgeon, have doubled their efforts to learn the cause of death, admitting at this time that the theory of poison is plausible.

An inquest into Griffing's death will be held by the coroner, as soon as the second autopsy is performed, and may be set for tomorrow, it was said.

"VIKING" OPENS RUN AT WALKER STATE

Beginning today and continuing through Thursday, Walker's State theater is presenting "The Viking". The picture is probably the most unusual all-talking film ever shown, depicting as it does a true picture of a seal expedition in Labrador.

This is the picture that cost the lives of twenty-six men, including that of Varick Frissell, its producer, when the "Viking", the ship after which it was named was destroyed by an explosion while the final scenes were being shot near Horse Island, off the northern coast of Newfoundland.

It is a clean, wholesome, whole-family picture, which will appeal to the spirit of adventure which is latent in everyone, women as well as men, and will prove an inspiration to boys and young men.

BAKERSFIELD—(UP)—A soda-pop drinking burglar was hunted by police when a local clubroom was entered and 6 bottles of pop were taken.

WHEN THE SLEEPER WALKS

Lois Moran and Edmund Lowe have the leading roles in "The Spider," now showing at the Fox Broadway theater. The other person in the picture is Howard Phillips, who is just about to reveal the identity of the "spider" while under the influence of the hypnotic powers of Lowe.

"THE LASH" SHOWN AS REVIVAL HERE TODAY

"The Lash," one of the latest of Richard Barthelmess' pictures, will be shown at the Fox West Coast theater tonight in connection with "Personal Maid," starring Nancy Carroll.

"The Lash" will be the revival film for the week and will start approximately at 8:30 o'clock, being shown only the one time, between the first and second regular shows.

A story of Early California days when the "gringos" took possession, the plot of the narrative concerns a young Spanish land owner who turns outlaw to fight the white men who come to take his lands. There is a romance that is particularly appealing and the end of the picture is a happy one.

MAE MURRAY HERE IN FIRST TALKIE

Mae Murray comes to Santa Ana tomorrow in her first all-talking picture, "High Stakes," which will be seen at the Fox West Coast theater.

The little blonde star, whose first professional appearance was in 1915, took her time about entering talking pictures, but due to her charm and personality is expected to take her place among the talking stars of the film.

Lowell Sherman plays opposite in the picture, which is the story of a girl whose past is ever being brought up to her and who is forever trying to live it down.

BOLSA

BOLSA, Sept. 22.—There were seven tables of "500" played at the Bolsa clubhouse Friday evening at the card party given under the auspices of the Bolsa club auxiliary. First prize went to Mrs. W. P. Treese and Sterling Price.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess committee. Frank Walker is away in the north on a deer hunting trip at his lodge near Red Bluff.

"PERSONAL MAID" AT WEST COAST

Most people are paid for what they know, but a personal maid is paid for what she knows how to keep quiet about, says Grace Perkins, the sensational new writer who has delved behind the modern scenes to bring "Ex-Mistress," "Night Nurse" and, now, "Personal Maid" to the reading and movie-going public.

"Personal Maid," the third of her sensational and revealing stories, will be seen on the Fox West Coast theater, today, with Nancy Carroll in the role of the red-headed Nora Ryan. Miss Carroll, in this, her first starring picture since "Night Angel," is ably supported by Pat O'Brien, brilliant young stage actor; Gene Raymond, known to Broadway as Raymond Guion; the jolly old character player, George Fawcett, and Mary Boland.

"Personal Maid" tells the intimate story of a young girl, transported from an East Side tenement home to a ritzy New York apartment. It deals with what she sees and hears in the world of wealth, loose morals, high living, and what effect it has on her character. Eventually, she tries "being a lady" herself, and, with a personal maid of her own, cavorts at a fashionable Florida resort. But, her masquerade exposed, she is swept back to the servants' hall, only to be swept out again into a ritzy apartment of her own, with a personal maid and a husband.

Fat Men

Mr. W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill, N. Y. City, writes, "Have finished my second bottle of Kruschen Salts—Results—Removed 3 inches from the waistline—am 25% more active—mind is clear—skin eruptions have disappeared—am 46 years old—feel 20 years younger."

To lose fat take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks. Get it at Given & Cannon, McCoy Drug Co., 2 stores, or any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.—Adv.

"THE SPIDER" DELIGHTS BIG B'WAY CROWD

Chills that tickle your spine with fingers of ice; thrills that make your heart jump like a Mexican jumping bean; a story packed with suspense; use of the camera that by the magic of illusion makes the spectator think he is participating in the solution of a baffling crime; and half a dozen of the best performances seen this season—they're all in

"The Spider," the Fox mystery melodrama that the Fox Broadway theatre presented to a delightful audience last night.

"The Spider" tells of a brother and sister kept apart by a dishonest uncle who wants to secure their inheritance for himself. While attending a theatre with this uncle, the sister sees the brother assisting a magician in his act. The uncle attempts to prevent their reunion; the lights go out; a shot is fired, and the panic is on.

Edmund Lowe as the magician is a cut above anything he has done before. Lois Moran, showing the beneficial effects of her recent stage experience, is very appealing as the sister. George E. Stone gets in some telling work. El Brendle is most amusing. The direction of William Cameron Menzies and Kenneth MacKenna is a thing of beauty.

Radionics "Tunes in" on Your Ailment!

Locates Your Trouble, Measures its Intensity, Tells You What to Do!

You can come in for a diagnosis, tell us nothing about yourself or your ailment, and we can "tune in" on you with the Calbro Magnowave Radionic instrument and tell you in a few moments exactly where your trouble is, how bad it is, and what can be done about it!

There's no guess-work about it. The place where you're ailing broadcasts as loud as the nearest radio station — the Radionic instrument receives the "program" and measures its severity with absolute accuracy.

Wouldn't it be a relief to KNOW exactly? Wouldn't it be great to see yourself get well as the Radionic instrument measures your progress?

Why, it's ridiculous to suffer any longer when you now have this scientific, modern way of treatment right here in Santa Ana! Come in and get a Radionic diagnosis of your case. Smile!—hope!—and phone 91 for appointment!

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Back into the town the Tynmites went. Said Scouty, "It is my intent to find a place where I can get an ice cream soda. Gee! The thought of chocolate hits me right. I soon can put out one of sight. If anybody else would like a soda, follow me."

Of course they all fell right in line because they thought his plan was fine. They shortly reached a little store, with tables out in front. Right up to one they promptly ran. Out came the friendly soda man. When they had ordered Carpy said, "This is a right good stunt."

Then up jumped Clowny. "I said he, 'will be as helpful as can be.' 'I'll help him make the sodas.' They'll be real big, you can bet." The man was glad to have his aid. Then one mistake poor Clowny made. He pulled the soda tap too far and got all soaking wet.

The man said, "Well, that is too bad. You'd better let me do it."

"Course Clowny didn't argue 'cause he feared he'd splash some more. Each Tynmite was served his treat. "Say! These fine sodas can't be beat!" exclaimed the kindly Travel Man. "Don't spill them on the floor." In half an hour they all were out upon the street and gazing about. 'Twas fun to watch the people who were walking to and fro. One man came by and Scouty said, "How does that fellow trudge ahead? The load he has upon his back would make me walk real slow."

The man had vegetables galore. He seemed just like a walking store. Across his shoulders hung a yoke and baskets swung in air. "That load must be a heavy one, but carrying it to him, seems fun," said Carpy. "He just walks along and doesn't seem to care." (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

Yorba Linda Seeks Facts On Metropolitan District

FARM CENTER GETS REPORTS ON WATER, TAX

YORBA LINDA, Sept. 22.—George Kellogg, representative of the county farm bureau executive board, protested the lax policy of the tax committee of the bureau at the joint meeting of the chamber of commerce and farm center last night at the Woman's clubhouse. More than 100 attended.

An item of business accomplished at the community meeting was voting to form a committee of members of the community organization to investigate the Metropolitan Water district. J. E. Lewis, chairman of the water committee, of the farm center, and superintendent of the Yorba Linda Water company, will head the committee.

Lewis reported that the water situation in Yorba Linda as in all other parts of Southern California, is critical; that water levels in wells are going down at a rate that means we will be without water soon unless every possible means is used to get and to conserve all the water possible.

LeRoy Lyon, chairman, head of the tax committee, reported on the findings of the committee on expenditures on roads, and Kellogg replied to the report.

The recommendation of the committee on a road tax advised against forming of special districts, and makes the specific suggestion that the gasoline tax be raised to four cents from three cents, while the 40-cent property tax be reduced.

Both Lyon, R. D. Flaherty, and

Austin Marshburn, president of the center, declared the policy of the farm bureau is one of investigation, and is not a thrust at any group.

Kellogg declared the figures on the costs of road building are inaccurate, for they show that over a period of 11 years, of a total of $12,500,000 spent on county roads, unincorporated areas spent eight and a half million, while cities spent but $1,700,000. He said the figures should have included the millions cities spent on their own roads, for the man from the unincorporated areas uses them, also.

William Schumacher, supervisor of the third district, declared that the whole principle of taxation needs overhauling, and that values need re-adjusting, but that taxation is a difficult problem, and equitable adjustment is hard.

He declared the supervisors have had a hard year, with a lot in assessed valuation, and commended Ray Addinon, county superintendent of public instruction, because of his co-operation in cutting school expenses to fit the new county budget.

The next meeting of farm center will be the third Monday in October, when officers will be elected.

BREAKWATER IS DISCUSSED AT CHAMBER MEET

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—The chamber of commerce at its luncheon Monday noon at the Golden Bear cafe held a short discussion of the proposed breakwater for this city. Ralph C. Turner, Warren J. Bristol, A. J. Hartley, W. J. Ebert and others spoke in favor of the breakwater. Mr. Ebert offered a motion that the city council be urged to investigate the feasibility of a breakwater. President Osborn held that such a motion should come before the directors of the chamber at their meeting next Thursday night and adjourned the meeting yesterday noon, declining to put the motion to a vote.

Mr. Hartley, in bringing the matter before the chamber of commerce, said that he felt the beach here afforded ideal conditions for the breakwater. He said the breakwater to be built at Santa Monica would be 200 feet long. It is to cost $900,000. He said the projected breakwater here would be 1500 feet long and would be built in shallower water, making it cost less than the Santa Monica breakwater.

Ralph C. Turner urged that the breakwater project be carefully investigated, but that, if it was within the financial means of the city, he would certainly be in favor of it. W. L. Lapp urged that the beach title suit between the city and the Huntington Beach company be settled before any beach improvement of such large magnitude be undertaken.

BEACH WELL FLOWS 150 BARRELS OIL

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 21.—Frank Gessell, resident of the Nuoli company, lessee of the Townsend Land company tract at the west end of Newport, stated today that the company's No. 3 well is doing 150 barrels of oil a day from the 1300-foot sand. Gessell said the company had gone into 200 feet of sand and was not through it. The oil cuts 2.5 per cent with less than 1/2 per cent of water, he said. Gessell also stated that the well, if produced to its capacity, should make better than 700 barrels.

Spanish Village Given Praise By Captain of Ship

SAN CLEMENTE, Sept. 22.—Capt. J. C. Henderson of the S. S. Examiner of the American Export lines is far from his ship but is not homesick. He says that San Clemente reminds him of colorful cities that dot the shore line of the blue Mediterranean as he sails his ship to the Black Sea.

The captain is a guest of Mrs. Stella Easley. Mrs. Easley and Miss Nan Cowan met the captain when they went to Spanish Morocco last year, he being commander of the boat on which they traveled.

Captain Henderson says that his company handles much Russian trade, the ports of the Black sea being principal ports of call for his company. Captain Henderson says he will leave for New York in a few days to take command of his ship, which is now in drydock.

Spanish Village Officer Elected To State Office

SAN CLEMENTE, Sept. 22.—Captain Harry Comber of the San Clemente police department was elected a vice president of the Municipal and County Motorcycle Officers association of California at the state session of the organization at San Francisco. Comber will represent this section of the state at directors' meetings of the association. The San Clemente officer reports that San Diego was awarded the 1932 convention, San Clemente withdrawing its bid when informed San Diego was seeking the honor.

Mrs. Comber and son, Robert, accompanied Captain Comber to the San Francisco meeting.

Fullerton Post Gets Employment Reports Tonight

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—Harry May, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, will address members of the local Legion post at its annual meeting tonight on the local unemployment situation, tell them what has been done to date in this community and outline some of the plan of the unemployment committee in carrying this work through the winter months.

Election of officers for the coming year will take place following a chicken dinner, which will be served to members of the post by the members of the auxiliary.

HUNTINGTON BEACH GIVEN $30,000 GOLF COURSE FOR RENTAL OF $1 EACH YEAR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—This city now has a beautiful new park and golf course consisting of 160 acres and built at a cost of over $30,000, with the oil companies, the American Legion and the municipal city contributing to its construction cost. The golf association, through its board of directors and its membership, presented the golf course and park to the city at the meeting of the city council last night and the council accepted.

City Attorney L. W. Blodgett was authorized to confer with the golf association and prepare the necessary legal papers. The Standard Oil company and the Huntington Beach company, owners of the 200 acres occupied by the golf course, which is operated under a long-time lease, with a rental of $1 a year, will consent to the transfer.

Through the action of the council last night, the city now possesses one of the finest municipal golf courses in the state and at no cost whatever to the city. The taking over of the project by the municipality insures the beautiful golf course will be maintained in first class shape for the pleasure of the general public, as it is always to be a public golf course.

Upkeep of the grounds and park will provide employment and insure the pay of the force now employed at the golf course, and the fact that the park is owned by the city, it is expected, will cause more people to be interested in golf, increase public use of the course and bring about larger patronage for the golf course.

SAN CLEMENTE BANKER QUILTS FOR VACATION

SAN CLEMENTE, Sept. 22.—Harry H. Cavin, manager of the San Clemente branch of the Bank of America of California, due to ill health, has resigned his position. Cavin, under doctor's care for the past two months, plans to take a rest cure in the mountains of southern California. J. Miller, manager of the Venice branch of the bank, is at present acting manager of the San Clemente branch. He has been at San Clemente for a month, working with Cavin.

Cavin became manager of the San Clemente bank when it opened for business November 19, 1927. During his management of the bank it was cited by the state as the fastest growing bank per capita in the state. In January, 1929, the San Clemente bank was purchased by the Bank of America of California and in November of last year it became a part of the present Bank of America chain. The bank is now in quarters in the Oscar Easley block.

Mrs. Vora Baxter, assistant manager of the bank, was with Cavin when the first Spanish village bank was established by local and Orange county citizens. She will continue in her present capacity, it is said.

Airport Is Planned At Dana Point

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 22.—S. H. Woodruff, developer of Dana Point, revealed to Laguna Beach friends this week plans for a big airport to be constructed on filled-in ground at the mouth of San Juan creek. Dirt is being hauled from the palisades along the three and a half mile stretch, including Capistrano Beach and Doherty Park, where the roadway is being widened to 100 feet, to make the fill.

Woodruff, according to Bruce Verne Crandall, told that the Santa Fe railroad will build a station at Doherty Park, so that in the future those who build homes in the new Doherty subdivision and at Dana Point may reach those places either by airplane or train, as well as by the Pacific Greyhound buses.

Plans for the airport are being discussed by Woodruff and Crandall, who are working on the project.

JURY UNABLE TO AGREE IN LIQUOR CASE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—M. M. Stanley, charged with possession of and selling liquor, who was tried before a jury in Justice Chris Pann's court yesterday, will be tried again September 29, the jury failing to agree.

Attorneys for the state and defense spent considerable time selecting a jury and the case was bitterly contested. It went to the jury at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At 9 o'clock last night the judge dismissed the jury. The report was to the effect that the jury had voted 11 to 1 for conviction on the first ballot and after five hours of deliberation the ballot was 11 to 1 for conviction.

Stanley conducts a rooming house here. His arrest was brought about through the employment of a private detective, it was testified by the witness. The detective swore he bought liquor from Stanley, who denied selling the detective liquor, pleading not guilty. This was a third offense charge, Stanley having previously been convicted on two counts of violation of the prohibition laws.

Stanley was arrested in the county-wide raids conducted by Sheriff Logan Jackson and District Attorney Sam Collins.

Two Judges Take Place Of Cravath

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 22.—Two out-of-town judges sat in Laguna Beach cases yesterday in the absence of City Judge and Justice of the Peace C. C. Cravath. Two sons of Attorney Ralph G. Miller, of Los Angeles and Laguna Beach were held before Justice of the Peace John Landell, San Juan Capistrano charged with trespassing on the property of the Irvine company. According to Deputy Constable Reed, they were found camping in a canyon about a mile from the Laguna canyon road, where they had set up a tent and had a radio going. The constable alleged they were prepared for hunting and confiscated two guns which later were returned to their father, Malcolm, 19, was fined $25 by the court, but $15 was suspended. The case of a 15-year-old boy was turned over to the juvenile court.

City Judge Fred S. Warner, of San Clemente, sitting as a police magistrate, fined Porter McCollough, of Los Angeles $50 on a possession charge after McCollough and a companion had been stopped on the highway inside the city limits by Constable Ben Elliott and taken to the station house together with two pints of bootleg found in the automobile. Elliott told the judge that only the quick wit and action of the driver of a double-deck Pacific reynold bus, prevented a bad smashup. McCollough admitted he was on his way to a party in San Diego. He paid half of the fine and was allowed to go on his promise to pay the rest October 3.

IN VIEW OF PRESENT CONDITIONS

We have iterated and reiterated in these columns the statement that the present situation in the world is largely the result of the war. We hope that the matter has sunk into the minds of our readers. If at times it appears that we are striking the same note to the extent of monotony, it is because we are impressed with the fact that only the death of the military spirit can save Western civilization from ultimate collapse.

There is the more need of this incessant reiteration in view of the fact that there are still so many of our people who think that increased armament is a supreme necessity, and that those who raise their protest against it are a bit shaky in their patriotic devotion. We yield to none in our devotion to our country and its institutions. Were they endangered by foes within or without we would be among the first to take our stand in their defense. But we do not believe that our institutions are in danger. It is folly to think that a handful of protesters can effect the downfall of our government. It is folly to think that Europe in its present state in anywise threatens our security. There is not a country in the world today that has the resources or the desire to attack America on land or sea. They have all they can do to keep their people loyal at home in view of their many burdens.

The carrying on of a war wrecked the czar's government in Russia and the kaiser's government in Germany. A war among any of the nations of Europe would leave the nations engaged in utter collapse. All this war talk is nonsense. All emphasis upon national defense by the cry for larger armies and navies is worse than nonsense; it is an invitation to unrest and the forces of revolt. The more need, then, that the principles of the Kellogg pact should be emphasized; that the coming disarmament conference at Geneva should do something to lighten the military burden of the nations, and that the United States should lead the world in protesting against militarism, not only by its counsels but in its practical example. To talk peace and to keep on increasing our naval strength is a drive at our sincerity and a menace to international friendship.

A Massachusetts man is said to be holding 16 different jobs. Sweet are the uses of diversity.

A NOVEL BUSINESS TRANSACTION BETWEEN COUNTRIES

The government of Brazil has a lot of coffee on its hands, purchased to keep up the price of coffee by withholding it from the market. The United States has a lot of wheat on its hands, purchased by the Farm Board, to keep up the price of wheat by withholding it from the market. The Brazilian government wants to get rid of its coffee. The Farm Board wants to get rid of its wheat. Neither government can sell its product for cash, so they resorted to the old scheme of barter. The Farm Board gave Brazil 25,000,000 bushels of wheat in exchange for 1,050,000 bags of coffee.

This is a very novel transaction. It goes back to the days when money was not very plentiful, and the farmer in the country exchanged his eggs and potatoes and what not for clothing and tools and what not with the trader in the city. International obligations are usually met by bills of exchange and gold. But in this transaction between Brazil and the United States the only resort was to the antiquated method of barter.

We wonder if this transaction does not illustrate the claim that is being made in many quarters that most of the economic difficulty of the world at the present time is due to an insufficient amount of gold, and that the world cannot resume its prosperity unless we arrive at some more adequate instrumentality of international exchange than gold. It is something worth thinking about. At any rate, this transaction is so unusual as to have arrested the attention of international economists.

Naturally there has been a great protest on the part of the coffee dealers of this country. If the Farm Board throws this newly acquired coffee on the market it is bound to affect private sales and prices. Surely, there is no end of trouble when governments get into business by buying products to prevent the fall of prices. Even the farmer now knows that the Federal Farm Board plan has been a failure. The farmer will have to solve his own problem, and the government had better go slow on its high tariff policy so that the farmer will not have to buy his goods in a high market and sell them in a low market.

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND JOBS

Thousands of good, honest, hard-working citizens in Southern California are now out of work and can find no work to do.

If they have accumulated a surplus, they are drawing upon it for their living expenses, which can't continue forever.

If they had no surplus, they are being aided by friends or charity, or perhaps barely existing on meagre part-time earnings and by going hungry some of the time.

Thousands of hungry children in Los Angeles were given a meal a few months ago, when the kind folk of that city learned that they were not getting enough to eat at home.

Men out of work do not want to be a burden on other workers. They don't want others to have to feed their children. They want WORK, so they can provide food for their families themselves, without asking any aid.

Providing work for such men is practical Christianity. Giving them jobs is a duty we owe to each other in this Human Brotherhood. We must do everything possible to relieve the present distressing condition of many of our worthy citizens.

And so, in addition to the absolute necessity of bringing in Colorado river water, we should give serious thought to the relief such a project will bring to thousands of families whose breadwinner is out of a job.

One hundred million dollars will be paid out for wages over the next seven-year period and distributed among 10,000 families, all residents of cities in the Metropolitan water district, which includes Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton; and probably in excess of 15,000 other new jobs created preparing materials and supplies and furnishing 10,000 families with necessities, when $220,000,000 of idle money is put into circulation throughout Southern California.

A "yes" vote on the aqueduct will help to bring this about.

INCREASING THE NATIONAL DEBT

The intention of the Treasury Department to issue long term bonds to meet the increasing deficit represents a shifting to the future of the payment of the national debt. Since the close of the war, the total debt has been considerably reduced. Years of prosperity brought a plentiful supply of funds into the national treasury.

As a result of this flood of prosperity, Mr. Mellon was the recipient of a great deal of popularity, arising from this condition. This prosperity caused him to be called the "greatest Secretary of the Treasury since Alexander Hamilton."

As a matter of fact, Mr. Mellon, like every other high public official, is largely the favorite or the victim of circumstances. Now by the same token, since we are adding to the debt, Secretary Mellon's reputation is likely to suffer. We should be fair to his critics of a few years back and just to him now when the treasury has fallen upon evil days.

It does, however, seem a pity that these long term bonds need to be floated. It would have been better not to have hastened the payment of the debt resulting from the war. The increasing of the national debt during a time of peace is always unfortunate and disturbing. The fact that the long-term bonds are being issued indicates very clearly that only so can an issue be floated at favorable rates. The laudable desire not to increase taxes at a time like this, as well as the probable failure to realize much for some years from our international debtors, makes a long term issue of bonds desirable.

Lettuce Industry Shows Big Growth

San Bernardino Sun

Lettuce growing enters the realm of big business with the annual statement of C. B. Moore, secretary of the Western Growers' Protective association, estimating the crop in California and Arizona for the year at 50,000 carloads with a value of $40,000,000.

The bulk of the crop will be produced in three districts: Imperial valley, the Salinas-Watsonville area and in the Salt River valley in Arizona. Imperial ships during the winter and early spring; the Salinas-Watsonville movement is in the late spring and the Salt River fields move crops during the spring and fall, providing virtually a continuous supply for the nation's salad.

In a comparatively few years the growing of lettuce has developed from truck gardening in from one to five-acre plots to an industry utilizing thousands of acres of the finest lands. Illustrative of the rapid strides by which lettuce growing has advanced in the West, the association's figures show that in 1920 there were 6350 carloads shipped from California and Arizona, whereas in 1930 the total shipments totaled 45,000 carloads.

How was this enormous market created? Through aggressive merchandising, Mr. Moore asserts in his statement, adding that the growers appropriated $200,000 for advertising by which the housewife was told of the healthful qualities of the head of lettuce. With a market established, the growers adopted standardized packing, lining their crates with waxed paper and assuring the buyer of quality. Two factors, advertising and quality production, are necessary to build any industry.

Inventions By Women

New York Times

The man who vows he never saw a woman put hammer to nail without smashing her thumb will tell you that all labor-saving devices for household work were invented by men. But disproof will be found at this year's Exposition of Women's Arts and Industries, to be opened September 30 at the Hotel Astor. A section will be devoted to models of patented devices of women, many of them with an eye to lightening "woman's work."

Among them is an electric iron with rounded edges and corners and a swinging handle, designed to do tricks difficult for an ordinary iron—pressing, as it does, tied bows, shoulder seams and beaded or embroidered fabrics. A woman who hated to darn and wanted to save on hosiery bills invented pads for the heels of shoes to save wear on stockings. A typewriter ribbon with which five copies can be made without using carbon paper was devised by a woman who already had invented forty-two others things, including a collapsible umbrella, an ice cream freezer and an electric fan shield.

More Truth Than Poetry

IT'S CONCENTRATION THAT COUNTS

The gunman is lacking in grammar. He's lacking in culture and polish. In Latin and Greek he's decidedly weak. Good music he never enjoys. He is often a mental deficient. And yet it seems safe to predict That inside of a year, with his rod and his leer, He will have all the rest of us licked.

The gunman has no erudition. He often can't write his own name. But you'll probably find that he puts all his mind On learning the art of his game. One slip, when he works at his calling, One miss with a gun or a knife, One little mistake and he'll need a good break To help him get off with his life.

If all of us studied our callings As the gunman must study his own, If we knew if we failed we'd be speedily jailed In a house made of iron and stone, Perhaps we should be more successful, Perhaps, in some not distant day, We should rise in our might and engage in a fight Which would put all the gunmen away.

But we lead a more pleasant existence; It is easy for us to get by. We never need say as we go on our way, "If we make one mistake, we shall die." We can blunder as much as we're prone to. And still attain most of our needs. But the gunman's soon dead if he don't use his head, Which is why he so often succeeds.

Legal Tender

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Why are there times, like these, when the Aladdin-like progress of science merely throws men out of work? Why does it not put them to work in NEW industries?

Lack of buyers—as we said yesterday—is the chief answer. Buyers regulate consumption, and consumption, in the long run, regulates production and employment.

But why is there ever any lack of buyers? Surely not because of any lack of desire to consume. In these days of high-powered salesmanship—in these days of radios, and motor cars and motion pictures—nearly everybody learns of more and more things which he wants to buy. His reach exceeds his grasp. The lazy native, lying under a banana tree in the tropics waiting for his food to drop at his feet, may be contented with what he has. But, in the United States, contented consumers are rare.

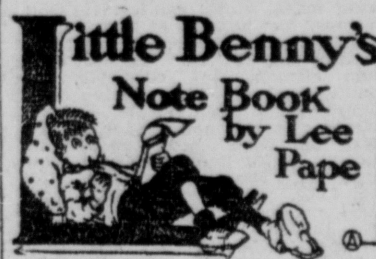

The trouble, we are told, is too little leisure. Reduce the days of labor per week, and the hours of labor per day, and consumers will have more time in which to do the consuming.

That is no solution of the problem. As a matter of fact, very few persons refrain from buying for want of free time. They refrain for want of free money.

A wage-earner with a six hour day buys more than a wage-earner with an eight-hour day—if he is paid more dollars per day. Otherwise he does not. Leisure is not legal tender.

Lack of buyers—overproduction—underconsumption: call the blight what you will. The basic trouble is a deficient flow of dollars to buyers who already are eager to buy.

Pop was smoking and thinking and ma was just thinking, and I said, Hay ma, you better sew this button on my coat before you go away, elts how am I going to get it sewed on? And how about the rip in the seat of my other pants? I said.

I was just thinking something of the very kind. I don't know what's going to become of your buttons and things while I'm away, ma said, and pop said, I don't know what makes you wimmin think you're the only sex can make a button go through its paces. Don't you know the best tailors in the world are men? he said.

Well if they are you're a long ways from being one of them, ma said.

Give me that button, I'll show you, pop said, and ma said, I've got it sewed on already.

Wich she had, and pop said, Then give me that rip Benny was talking about.

Good, that will be a reel test for you, ma said. And I ran and got my other pants and ma gave pop the sewing basket and pop started to take a needle with three on the end of it, ma saying, My goodness you wouldn't sew a brown rip with white thread? would you?

Why not, why should I put a little cheerful contrast in the drab life of a poor rip? pop said. However, for conventions sake I'll thread a brown needle, I mean needle a brown thread, he said.

Wich he started to do, and ma kept on looking at him with one eye and reeding the paper with the other, and pop keep missing the eye and after about 5 minutes he said, How can I brown a thread needle with that doubting eye boring rite through me.

And he quick took 3 safety pins out of the sewing basket and pinned up the rip on the outside.

Giving ma about 10 times more pleasure than if he had did it rite.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

AMERICA AT THE CROSS ROADS

Yesterday I spoke of a four-fold formula that seems to me generally to underlie creative advances in the common life of a people: (1) The decay of old philosophies and old procedures; (2) the quiet preparation of new philosophies and new procedures; by unofficial persons; (3) a long period of maladjustment between old policies and new problems in which the masses cling uncritically to the old order, followed by a growing skepticism of the philosophy and leadership of the time; (4) the appearance of a new leadership that sounds the right rally cries and puts the masses of men in touch with the new philosophies and new procedures the time requires.

America seems to me to be standing hesitant on the threshold of the fourth and last phase of this formula.

Many of the old philosophies and old procedures of America's political, social and economic orders have obviously fallen into futility through the failure of American leadership to keep them progressively adjusted to the changing circumstances of the age of science and technology.

America has not been wanting in unofficial statesmen who, as scientists and seers, have blazed the trails towards the new philosophies and new procedures needed to check the political, social, and economic instability and ineffectiveness that mark our time, and to give a new significance to our common life.

There has been a long period of manifest maladjustment between the old policies and the new problems of American life. Manifest, that is, to all who have cared to see.

The tether of traditional loyalty has been slow to weaken. Today, however, the mood of men everywhere changes. A world-wide economic disturbance has shaken men from their old serenity. They are not showing the old reluctance to question the major assumptions upon which their lives have been organized. The tether of traditional loyalty slips as men see the ground-stakes of their social and economic orders loosen.

Men are everywhere tending to grow openly skeptical of the philosophy and eldership in control of their affairs, and men everywhere are fumbling for some clear lead out of their confusion.

The stage is set for the emergence of a leadership that can sense and sound the right rallying cries of a redemptive statesmanship. (Copyright, 1931, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SHIFTING VISIONS

He talks and acts as though this hobby of his was his life's vocation. Nothing matters so much, at the time. Usually the pet occupation shifts to another and that with little warning. When this happens the family are indignant. "Here I have spent a lot of money on his notion. He wanted materials and I bought them for him. He wanted lessons and I paid for them. Now, off he goes to something else. Sheer waste of time and money."

Cheer up. Nothing has been lost and much has been gained. Every experiment counts to worry the more completely the child followed his idea the more power he gained.

The next activity is the stronger for the attention he gave the first. Each leads to the next. Music may turn into mathematics. The musician is often an engineer. The gardener may turn into a scientist, or a writer, or something else. Whatever it is, give the child all the encouragement he needs.

As long as a child works there is hope for him. The one to worry about is the one that will lie down beside his work and go to sleep. He finds excuses for not doing things. He avoids doing anything that may give him trouble. Nothing holds his attention and he craves entertainment and excitement all the time.

The busy, active child whose vision keeps shifting, whose hands keep time with his mind, is all right. All he needs is your good word.
